JOBLESSNESS PEAKS IN FESTIVE SEASON

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

ROBUST festive sales and increasing domestic demand have not resulted in creating more jobs as the country's unemployment rate has shot up to 7.86% this month from 6.43% in September, the latest data from the Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE) showed. The spike was driven by rural unemployment at 8.01%. Urban joblessness also remained high at 7.53% (See table).

The latest uptick in rural distress is in sharp contrast to the muted 5.84% rural unemployment rate in September, which was much lower than the previous month's 7.68%.

According to Mahesh Bhatt, chief business officer at TeamLease Services, erratic rainfalls and tightening financial conditions have led to muted economic activities, which in turn affected rural employment prospects.

Other experts blame macroeconomic factors. "The looming fears of recession in the US market have created a panic among many IT companies. As a safeguard against decreasing demand for new projects and a volatile future they have frozen new hirings," said Aditya Narayan Mishra, MD and CEO of CIEL HR Services. He added that the joining dates of freshers are also getting pushed, pushing up unemployment rates. CEOs of IT firms have given cautious outlooks during Q2 results, while clients are taking time to seal bigger deals.

While the venture capital fund flow was at its peak, many start-ups were on a hiring spree but with the changing business dynamics, funds have dried up.

"Start-ups are realigning their talent strategy and this has impacted the overall employment sentiment. Global recession fears have resulted in companies tightening their purse. This has affected short-term hiring sentiments," Bhatt added.

EMBATTLED UK Prime Minister Liz Truss on Thursday put in her papers after 44 tumultuous days in office, going down in British history as the shortest serving premier ever.

The slide began after last month's mini-budget got embroiled in controversy as it contained £45 billion of unfunded tax cuts, which triggered uncertainty in the sterling and gilt markets.

Making a brief statement outside 10, Downing Street, Truss said a new party leader and prime minister would be chosen within a week.

That set the clock for the election of her successor, with the names of former Chancellor Rishi Sunak, Leader of the House of Commons Penny Mordaunt, Defence Secretary Ben Wallace and former Home Secretary Suella Braverman doing the rounds. The name of Truss' predecessor Boris Johnson, too, is in circulation. Chancellor Jeremy Hunt ruled himself out, which could bolster a Sunak ticket because he was in the latter's camp before taking over the finance portfolio.

In the morning, Truss had met Sir Graham Brady, chair of the 1922 committee of backbench Tory MPs that sets the rules for the party leadership vote. He said the successor should be in place by next Friday. The narrowed down election window of a week necessitates online polling.

Each candidate will need the support of 100 MPs to enter the fray. But if there is only one candidate in the race, there would be no need for a vote. However, the 1.6 lakh Tory voters have been promised a say in electing the new leader. "Bookmakers are putting Sunak and Mordaunt and Wallace as favourites," said a political observer from London.

"I cannot deliver the mandate on which I was elected by the Conservative Party.... I will remain as PM until a successor has been chosen," Truss said in her brief speech.

Crisis talks with Sir Graham, deputy PM Therese Coffey and Tory chair Jake Berry amid an avalanche of no-trust letters from party MPs gave her the sense that her time was up.

A day earlier, there was big Tory confusion over whether a Labour motion in Parliament involved a whip. The issue put to vote was on MPs having a say on the government's fracking plans to drill for gas. P21

SC/ST quota hike: Karnataka cabinet to take ordinance route

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH just five months to go for the announcement of assembly elections in Karnataka, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai's cabinet on Thursday decided to promulgate an ordinance increasing the Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe (SC/ST) reservation in the state.

The ordinance, once promulgated after the Governor's assent, will increase reservations for SCs from 15 to 17 per cent and for STs from 3 to 7 per cent. "Following the decision to enhance the SC/ST reservation, we introduced a bill to this effect before the cabinet, and it was decided to send it to the Governor to promulgate an ordinance," Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister J C Madhuswamy said after the cabinet meeting.

Explaining the need to hike the reservation, Madhuswamy said there were only six castes in Karnataka under Scheduled Castes previously and an additional 103 castes and nomads and slum-dwellers were added and hence the hike in reservation was necessary to accommodate the increased numbers.

AFTER a gruelling trip from Frankfurt to Istanbul in Turkey, 382 passengers reached Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) at 1.40 pm, over 36 hours behind scheduled time, by a Lufthansa flight. Besides heaving a huge sigh of relief over finally landing in India, passengers shared their agony and rage over the manner in which they were treated by a foreign airline as well as at a foreign airport.

Charges of racism, utter disrespect towards Indians and being treated as second-grade citizens flew thick and fast online and during interactions with TNIE.

Flight LH 754 took off on Tuesday from Germany, 20 minutes behind its scheduled time of 1.05 pm and was supposed to reach KIA at 1.25 am on Wednesday. A major onboard medical emergency forced the flight to be diverted mid-air. Vashishta Jayanti, who runs his own landscape design business in Bengaluru, had gone to Alitalia in Turkey. "Five of us flew to Frankfurt as Lufthansa operates a direct flight to Bengaluru from there. Just 25 minutes after the flight took off, an 85-year-old passenger, a Sri Lankan native, developed an health emergency. He was foaming at his mouth and had breathing problems. Three doctors, who were also passengers, were attending on him. After four hours of flying, the flight captain announced that the plane would be diverted to Baghdad and from there to Istanbul." P7

RAIN FURY: TREES UPROOTED, HOUSES INUNDATED, TRAFFIC HIT

Water gushes into shops, traders forced to shift goods, motorists stranded in underpasses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE heavy rain which lashed Bengaluru city on Wednesday night resulted in water flooding in many low-lying areas, uprooting of trees, underpasses and roads getting filled with water, and traffic snarls. A large number of motorists were seen stranded at underpasses, under trees and bus shelters.

Many basement parking lots in apartments were also flooded and vehicles damaged. At some places manholes started overflowing. Shivananda Circle railway underpass turned into a pool. Shantinagar BMTC Bus Stand and roads in Wilson Garden were submerged in water. The areas most affected are Basavanagudi, Jayanagar, Chamarajpet, Malleswaram, Yeshavantpur, Rajajinagar, KR Market, BTM, Tilak Nagar, Basaveshwara Nagar, RT Nagar, Hebbala, Hoodi and KR Puram.

The BBMP Control Room reported three incidents of trees getting uprooted. At several places, business establishments were hit hard as shops were inundated. At Russell Market, water gushed into storerooms and shops, forcing traders to shift their goods to safer places.

At Chinnappa Garden, eight homes were flooded with dirty water from nearby storm water drains. Prashanth, a resident said, "Due to encroachment on storm water drains which are already clogged, whenever it rains, houses here get flooded and despite bringing the issue to the notice of the BBMP, nothing has been done. On Wednesday night, water level rose up to two feet at my home and all groceries and electronic items like fridge were damaged. We had to shift my bedridden grandmother on her cot to the first floor. Seven other houses were also flooded."

As Bilekahalli in Bommanahalli assembly constituency was completely flooded, local MLA Satish Reddy visited the spot and conducted an inspection. Locals complained to him that due to faulty construction of the royal canal, flooding takes place. The BBMP staff pumped out water using a pump.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said that areas like HSR Layout Sector 6, Anugraha Layout, BTM Layout, Shivajinagar and surrounding areas were flooded. In all, about 56 houses got affected for a few hours as they were inundated. "The BBMP has been clearing the storm water drains and hence, despite heavy rain, there was no serious damage and no loss of life," said Girinath.

Mahadevpura Special Commissioner Triliok Chandra, however, claimed that despite heavy rain on Wednesday night, not much flooding was reported. At TZ Apartment in Nallurhalli, a complaint was received by the BBMP. According to residents, on Balagere Main Road between Kadubeesanahalli and Varthuru, there was water on road which slowed down the traffic movement.

Metro to compensate owners of damaged vehicles

Bengaluru: THE compound wall opposite the JDS office, near the Mantri Sampige Road Metro station, collapsed around 10.30 pm on Wednesday, damaging seven cars and a two-wheeler. BMRCL MD Anjum Parwez said, "This is not a retaining wall. It is the compound wall erected around railway land that we have taken on lease for 99 years. The ramp of our underground tunnel goes from here to Majestic. Hence, the portion has been covered with this compound," he said. The wall was built long ago. The soil that had formed between this and another wall was under pressure due to heavy rain and it crumbled. "We will compensate all the vehicle users for damages to their vehicles," he said. Executive Director, Operations and Management, A S Shankar and Parwez visited the spot on Thursday morning. "The wall will be rebuilt and it will take us a month," he said. Nearly 50 people staged a protest here against the damage to the vehicles. ENS

TBM Avni to hang up the boots today

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

NAMMA Metro's second Tunnel Boring Machine (TBM) will be taken out of service on Friday afternoon. 'Avni' will complete tunnelling the distance of 1,100 metre from South of MG Road Metro station up to Vellara Junction and will break through after 231 days. This being the second leg of its tunnelling journey, Avni's tryst with Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) will come to an end.

This will be second TBM of BMRCL's Phase-II to hang up its boots with TBM Varada completing its job on September 9 this year. Nine TBMs have been entrusted with the job of building an 13.8-km underground corridor for the Nagawara-Kalena Agrahara Line.

A senior Metro official told TNIE, "Avni will have its breakthrough at Rashtriya Military School at Vellara Junction. It is unique in two important aspects. Out of the nine TBMs hired for BMRCL, it will cover the maximum distance in terms of tunnelling. On January 6 this year, it had completed 487 days of tunnelling from Shivaji Nagar Metro station to MG Road station, a 1,086-metre stretch. It is also the first TBM that drilled below an operational Metro line when it tunnelled under Cauvery Emporium on MG Road on March 9 during its second leg, thereby crossing the Metro alignment of the Purple Line (Baiyappanahalli to Kengeri)."

In Phase-2, there will only be one more instance when such a crossing takes place, when Lavi, the TBM drilling parallel to Avni, crosses below the same stretch.

Even as six other TBMs continue inching their way forward, work on kickstarting Rudra, which has ground to a halt three months ago due to garbage heaps blocking its tunnelling has begun. "To deal with the garbage which has now almost become like manure, we will first drill a steel casing running to a diameter of 1.2 metre. The soil would be removed through it. A concrete structure will be laid above it." It will take another four months for the procedure to be completed and 'Rudra' to restart its job.

Elaborating on the unique challenges faced underground, the official said that TBM Varnika (Diary Circle to Lakkasandra) was drilling just 9 metre away from Rudra, but was going about its job smoothly.

The KEA server had been down since last Friday and started working on Thursday after six days. Ramya said they are also facing manpower shortage post Covid and need more people for smooth work process. So far, 25,000 registrations for NEET students have been completed. BBP vets battle to save unwell tiger cub abandoned by its parents

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THE zoo administration and veterinarians at Bannerghatta Biological Park (BBP) have a delicate task at hand. They are trying to save a seven-month-old tiger cub which is being hand-reared in the zoo veterinary hospital.

Born on February 22, 2022, the cub was abandoned by her parents Anushka and Mithun as she had birth defects. When she fell ill and started slipping into coma, the veterinarians examined her closely. She was admitted to the hospital where she was diagnosed with polycystic kidney disease and cataract.

BBP veterinarian Dr Umashankar said that ophthalmologists have been consulted and medical treatment for removal of cataract has begun. She is being administered eye drops and medicines to cure her cataract. "She is too small to undergo a surgery on the eye and for removal of the cyst. Medical examination revealed that water gets filled in her abdomen which is removed by using syringes. We are in talks with veterinarians in other Indian and overseas zoos to find a cure for her," he said.

The cub was diagnosed with polycystic kidney disease and cataract

Even as many visitors, including some influential people, have shown interest in adopting her, the zoo management has decided not to part with the cub as they are not sure how long it will live.

"She is recovering slowly with the help of medicines and health supplements. While some say she will not survive for more than three months, others say she will live for three years. The cub is not for public display," he added.

Veterinarians say that operating on the cyst does not mean that it will not recur. So they are looking for a permanent solution. They are also in talks with veterinarians from Malaysia.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

21st October: The current lunar phase is an important point for all gardeners, favouring rest rather than activity! It's a well-kept secret that the moon and the stars can have a dramatic impact on plant growth. Actually the so-called 'biodynamic farmers' have been in on the secret for a long time and some of their best wines (including alcoholic-free!) are produced in line with lunar rhythms.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Watch out for a spot of bother as a partner picks up the wrong end of the stick. Although only some of you will be affected, there is no knowing what, or who, will wind you up. Always give others the benefit of the doubt, and you'll soon find that they soften their stance.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There's still a shortage of significant planetary patterns, so this is a time for you to make your own choices and not to be pushed by circumstances. Actually, it's a sociable period, and you'll be happy to mix with friends - and avoid any feeling that you're stuck with family members.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You want only the best - and you deserve an improvement in your circumstances. It's one thing having high hopes, though, and another to make sure that they can be put into practice. You may be able to rely on people who already have done what you're planning. If they don't offer advice first, then swallow your pride and ask.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Today's stars favour practical steps to make your nest more harmonious and comfortable, but if you don't take other people's wishes into account all your actions will have the reverse effect. You need their help, so you may have to tailor your desires to theirs.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Sometimes you get the feeling that the real action is elsewhere. If you're still wondering where the excitement is, give it a little longer. The whole situation changes before long, allowing all of you to go out and hunt for your heart's desire. And about time too!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There is a great deal to be said for indulging yourself today. Some sort of treat is in order to lift your morale. You also deserve a reward for all those times you have put yourself out for other people. You may not receive the thanks you're expecting, but appreciation could arrive in other ways.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You still seem to have enough energy to keep your own plans on the go - and inspire other people with your example. As you've discovered, though, if you don't pace yourself and slow down as soon as you hear the warning signals, then you could end up completely burnt out and exhausted.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You're still not happy for other people to find out everything that you're doing, so you'll have some fine judgements to make, letting some folk into your confidence, but treading warily with others. And, if you can find some time to day-dream, then go ahead!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Any desire to travel widely, perhaps to far-away places, should now be taken a major step forward. If life in foreign parts doesn't suit you, at the very least you should take steps to make your accommodation more airy and spacious. A little extra luxury wouldn't come amiss, either.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Expect a surprise of sorts. It seems that the consequences of the last few months' actions could be extremely important - and will be here sooner than you expect. It is also clear that whatever happens may bring back memories of something that took place around this time last month.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Discretion is vital. Yet it is amazing how much you can give away without telling anyone what is really going on! You have everything to gain from keeping a secret a little while longer. That way the surprise - and a partner's pleasure could be all the greater.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Social influences are strong, perhaps because you feel more confident and ready for an unusual encounter, on the look-out for strange coincidences. If you're on a short fuse, someone is bound to try and wind you up. A laugh and a smile should see you through.

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai dedicated the 90-m aerial ladder platform which enables fire and emergency services personnel to fight fire and rescue people up to 90 m and about 30 floors, on Thursday. The CM said the ladder has not only added great strength to the department but will also contribute to the city's development.

The city so far had a 50-m aerial ladder and now it's the second city after Mumbai to have a 90-m aerial ladder. The equipment was much needed after the infamous Carlton Tower tragedy that claimed nine lives and left around 70 injured in 2010.

After dedicating its service and flagging off 'Green Deepavali', a public awareness campaign, at Vidhana Soudha, Bommai said such aerial ladders are essential in all metro cities around the world to give permission to construct high-rise buildings.

"Bengaluru is growing at a fast pace, vertically too. Hence, such a ladder is much needed. Having it is as important as having fire safety norms and measures for a developed city," he said. The ladder is imported from Finland at a cost of Rs 31.19 crore. "Efforts were on to import it from the last two-and-a-half years. Due to Covid-19 pandemic, the production was affected in Finland and there was a delay in the procurement," Bommai said, adding that steps are being taken to strengthen the fire force and SDRF.

Meanwhile, he expressed displeasure over projecting Bengaluru in poor light during the recent floods. "There was flooding only in two constituencies and not in the other 26 Assembly segments. But it was projected as if the whole city had submerged. The government is capable of solving any problem in the city. It is important to present facts correctly," the chief minister added.

3 outsourced Rly employees held, ₹80 lakh worth drugs recovered

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THREE outsourced employees of the Railways have been arrested by the sleuths attached to the Central Crime Branch (CCB) on charges of peddling drugs. Hashish oil and other drugs worth Rs 80 lakh have been recovered from them.

The trio were working in the North East Frontier Railway Agartala coaching depot as A/C attendants and bedroll staff. The accused were transporting drugs from Assam in the coaches that were allotted to them. They would keep the drugs in the lockers of the coaches and were handing it to the peddlers at the Baiyappanahalli railway station.

The accused are Bappa Karde, Pintu Das and Rajesh Paul. Around 1.1 kg of hashish oil and 6 kg of ganja have been recovered from them. They have been handed over to the jurisdictional Baiyappanahalli police station.

"We suspect that the three are small fish of a bigger racket. They must be operating as delivery agents transporting drugs from Assam to Bengaluru on the behest of big time peddlers on commission basis. Two more drug peddlers connected to the case are absconding. The four mobile phones that have been recovered from the three will throw more light on the racket," said the police.

The police also suspect that the trio must have been delivering drugs to peddlers at other railway stations enroute.

The three are booked under the NDPS Act and further investigations are on.

Congress leaders protest, demand protection for Thiruvalluvar statue

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONGRESS leaders KJ George, Dinesh Gundu Rao, Akhanda Srinivasa Murthy and their supporters held a protest at the Thiruvalluvar statue in Ulsoor on Thursday. The leaders alleged that Bharatiya Janata Party supporters demolished the platform and compound wall here recently and demanded protection for the statue.

It is said that development in and around the statue taken up at the local level deliberately covered the name board with the inauguration details of former chief minister BS Yediyurappa.

This reportedly enraged the BJP supporters and on Wednesday, the compound wall and structure covering the names on stone was razed.

Former minister KJ George said the statue of the Tamil poet was unveiled during the Congress regime but the BJP played politics and put Yediyurappa's name during their rule, but the Congress did not protest.

"Congress respects Thiruvalluvar and other great reformers. When BJP removed the old plaque at the statue containing S Bangarappa's and my name, we kept silent. For us, the statue was important as we also see Thiruvalluvar as our guru," said George.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE east division traffic police have cracked down on shopkeepers, especially those running garages and second-hand car businesses, who parked their vehicles on footpaths and in and around the place of business obstructing the vehicular movement and causing inconvenience to pedestrians. Workshop on tackling female foeticide

ENS @Bengaluru

TO prevent the menace of female foeticide in the state, Health and Family Welfare Services Commissioner said the mentality of people has to be changed.

Inaugurating a two-day workshop on tackling female foeticide, on Thursday, Randeep said the Health Department has already announced a reward of Rs 50,000 for information about centres performing gender detection tests in the state. The workshop aims to enhance the operational potential of 'Save the Girl Child' campaign. As many as 31 district health officers and family welfare officers are participating in it.

"We are tackling such cases through district-level operations. People also travel to neighbouring states, especially Solapur in Maharashtra, to get such tests conducted," he said while highlighting the importance of the campaign.

Pre-conception and Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques State Nodal Officer Dr Vivek Dore said monitoring is being done at various levels to prevent embryo detection tests. "Following complaints of embryo detection tests being carried out in Andhra Pradesh, the National Inspection Team raided six centres in that state, bordering Kolar recently," he added. Randeep also suggested that providing proper training to health officers and strict action against illegal centres can prevent female foeticide cases.

GIM SHOULD NET ₹5L CR INVESTMENT, SAYS NIRANI

Expects to generate 5 lakh jobs in Karnataka; Says Congress campaign against government will have no impact on business

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MINISTER for Large and Medium Industries Murugesh R Nirani said the Karnataka government is expecting over Rs 5 lakh crore in investments during the Global Investors' Meet (GIM) 2022, slated to be held from November 2 to 4, and the Congress campaign against the government will not have any impact on the GIM.

Nirani, who has just returned from his tour abroad and roadshows in Indian metro cities to attract investments for Karnataka, told the media that the Congress allegations have no meaning. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and others have sought evidence, which they have failed to furnish. Moreover, investors know that the state is peaceful and investor-friendly, he said.

Asked about neighbouring states trying to attract the state's potential investors, he said he has no qualms about it as those states are also part of the country. "They are our brothers. But Karnataka's policy reforms continue to keep it on top. It has attracted Rs 1.76 lakh crore ($22.1bn) FDI from April 2021 to March 2022, which is 38 per cent share of FDI flow into the country," he remarked.

The state is expecting over Rs 5 lakh crore in investments which could generate 5 lakh jobs, and MoUs have already been signed for Rs 3 lakh crore, he added. The state has seen 66 per cent conversion of MoUs signed in industrial sectors for investment proposals being filed over the past one year. This conversion ratio is expected to cross 80 per cent over 3-6 months after the GIM. A total of 50,000 acres of land -- 20,000 acres in and around Bengaluru, and 30,000 acres across the state – has been earmarked, he informed.

Karnataka has already secured Rs 4 lakh crore worth of projects across sectors such as green hydrogen, electronics manufacturing, renewables, aerospace and defence, e-mobility and infrastructure, and this investment is expected to increase post the GIM, he explained.

MODI TO INAUGURATE GIM-2022 VIRTUALLY

PM Narendra Modi will inaugurate GIM on November 2 at the Palace Grounds virtually. It will be attended by Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, ministers Smriti Irani, Bhagwant Khuba and Nitin Gadkari.

Adani's commitment

Business tycoon Gautam Adani, who recently announced investments worth ₹60,000 in Congress-ruled Rajasthan, is likely to make a similar announcement for Karnataka. "Adani would be sending his son Karan Adani, and we expect good investments from their companies," Nirani revealed. Business honchos from Vedant and Hinduja groups are among those expected to take part too. "We recently completed roadshows in Japan, South Korea, US, Europe, and domestic roadshows in New Delhi, Hyderabad and Mumbai. Our aim is not only to get investments but to bring industry giants under one platform. We are expecting over 5,000 global delegates," he said.

HDK confident of winning 30 seats in North Karnataka

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

FORMER chief minister HD Kumaraswamy said on Thursday that the performance of the Janata Dal Secular (JDS) in the North Karnataka region in the coming elections will stun its political rivals who claim that his party is confined to the Old Mysuru region alone.

Participating in a meeting of JDS leaders and ticket aspirants ahead of launching his statewide yatra on November 1, Kumarawamy claimed that his party has bright chances of outsmarting the Congress and BJP in the Mumbai-Karnataka and Kalyana-Karnataka regions by winning 30 seats.

He said many JDS leaders in Vijayapura, Bagalkot, Kalaburagi, Raichur and other places are striving hard to bring the party back to power in Karnataka.

Kumaraswamy observed that the Congress and BJP, which need the support of JDS in case of a fractured mandate, have mellowed down a lot in their approach to his party.

He said the JDS is confident of coming back to power on its own with its Pancharatna programme of providing free education, health, housing, irrigation, and employment to the people. Kumaraswamy declared that he will dissolve his party if it fails to come to power. Recalling that the coalition government headed by him had waived farm loans, he said the JDS by winning 123 seats will ensure good governance.

Welcoming the election of veteran leader Mallikarjun Kharge as AICC president, he said Kharge's election will lead to another power centre in the state Congress.

He hinted that his son Nikhil Kumaraswamy would be in the list of 126 probable candidates to be announced for the Assembly elections.

Unite to defeat Cong, BJP: Gowda to party leaders

JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda called for unity among party leaders to defeat both the Congress and the BJP. Gowda, recovering from a brief illness, flew down to Mysuru to attend the two-day workshop.

Claiming that unity in JDS would spell doom to both the national parties, the 92-year-old former PM said he would campaign actively not just to make his son HD Kumaraswamy the CM, but also to save the party.

He also slammed both the Congress and the BJP for taking credit for the hike in SC/ST reservation.

He challenged the BJP and Congress leaders for an open date on the issue of reservation. "They should know that it was me who gave reservation to Backward Classes, Minorities and women. I am not scared to tell the truth," he said.

WILL STAY IN JDS, CONFIRMS GTD

Mysuru: It was reunion and a moment of relief when JDS supremo HD Deve Gowda along with former CM HD Kumaraswamy visited MLA GT Devegowda's residence, who had distanced himself from the party, on Thursday. GT Devegowda was at loggerheads with Kumaraswamy, and had even warned that he will join Congress. Their lunch, for now, bridges the rift. "I call GTD 'junior' Devegowda'. GT Devegowda has been with us even before Sa Ra Mahesh came to us. To stifle the ascent of GT Devegowda, his loss in the MP election was engineered. Now, even he is not in our party," said HD Devegowda, referring to former CM Siddaramaiah. GT Devegowda said, "Even though I was away from the JDS for three years, his (HD Deve Gowda) love towards me has not dampened. I will strive to bring JDS back to power and ensure Kumaraswamy becomes CM. I will remain in the party," he said.

HC: ED CAN RECORD STATEMENT OF PSI SCAM ACCUSED

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MAINTAINING that the Special Court has the jurisdiction to pass orders on an application filed by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), the Karnataka High Court quashed an order issued by a Magistrate and allowed ED's application for recording the statement of D Harsha, First Division Assistant, Recruitment Section, Police Department, who is in judicial custody after he was arrested for alleged involvement in Police Sub-Inspectors (PSI) recruitment scam.

Allowing the petition filed by Harsha, Justice M Nagaprasanna said that the Magistrate does not have jurisdiction to entertain the application of ED to record the statement of the accused under PMLA as the Special Court or Sessions Court can pass orders on such applications. However, the judge granted liberty to the ED to file application before the Special Court for obtaining permission.

The ED has filed Enforcement Case Information Report (ECIR) against the petitioner and others to check huge cash flow. Pursuant of ECIR, the authorities of the ED on August 30, 2022 filed an application under Section 50 (3) of the PMLA before the Magistrate seeking permission to record the written statement of five accused, including the petitioner, who are in judicial custody and to allow two officers of the ED with a laptop and a printer for the purpose of recording the statements and also sought a direction to the jail authorities to cooperate.

The First Additional Chief Metropolitan Magistrate allowed ED's application on September 14, 2022 and this was questioned by the petitioner before the High Court.

The petitioner is one of the accused in a case registered in Kalaburagi which was later transferred to CID.

He is accused number 29 in another case registered at the High Ground Police Station in connection with the scam. Meanwhile, a chargesheet was filed against him along with others.

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday held a preliminary meeting on Prime Minister Narendra Modi's scheduled visit to Bengaluru on November 11 during which he will be unveiling the 108-ft-tall bronze statue of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda besides inaugurating the Terminal-2 at Kempegowda International Airport (KIA).

Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan informed the meeting as a prelude to the November 11 function, 'Banni Naada Kattona' (let's build the state), a campaign for the collection of sacred mud (Mruthike) from all districts will start tomorrow. 'Kharge's ability to avoid knee-jerk reactions a great advantage'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SENIOR Congress leader and former minister Prof BK Chandrashekar said AICC president-elect Mallikarjun Kharge's enormous patience and ability to avoid knee-jerk reactions is a great advantage.

Chandrashekar, who had closely worked with Kharge in the SM Krishna Cabinet, stated that his remarkable objectivity in matters of administration is admirable. "He was extraordinarily well informed on all matters that came before the Cabinet. He was probably the best Minister in the Cabinet. He will no doubt consult and work with senior colleagues following democratic principles," Chandrashekar said in a statement issued on Thursday.

The former minister said he was entrusted with substantial responsibility by Krishna on the matter of Dr Rajkumar's abduction by Veerappan.

"I can never forget the kind and easy manner in which Kharge as Home Minister facilitated the discharge of my responsibility in the crisis, against the background that I had joined Congress only in 1997," he stated.

Govt for quota hike under 9th Schedule

AS for Scheduled Tribes, due to the inclusion of communities like Valmiki Nayakas, their numbers have increased and hence the hike in quota.

THIS will, however, take the reservation tally in Karnataka to 56 per cent, above the 50 per cent cap fixed by the Supreme Court in the Indira Sawhney judgement.

Hence the government would recommend bringing the quota hike under the 9th Schedule of the Constitution to give it legal protection.

Madhuswamy said the government had earlier decided to issue an executive order hiking the quota but decided against it as it could be easily challenged in courts.

'KANTARA' EFFECT

₹2,000 pension for Bhootaradhane performers

VINCENT D'SOUZA @ Mangaluru

MINISTER for Kannada and Culture V Sunil Kumar on Thursday announced a monthly pension of Rs 2,000 for 'Bhootaradhane' performers aged above 60. The minister posted a tweet in this regard.

According to the Karnataka Tourism department website, Bhootaradhane or devil worship is common in coastal districts of Karnataka. Idols representing bhootas are taken out in a procession to the beating of drums and bursting of fireworks. As the procession ends, the idols are placed on a pedestal. With a sword and jingling bells, a dancer whirls round in imitation of the devil he represents. Frantically pacing up and down, he enters into a possessed state and acts as an oracle. "Bhoota Kola is performed by a trained person who is believed to have temporarily become a God himself. The performer displays an aggressive outlook, dances fiercely and performs multiple rituals. The performer is feared and respected in the community and is believed to give answers to people's problems on behalf of God," points out the website.

'Kantara', a Kannada film released recently with Rishab Shetty in the lead role, is based on Bhootaradhane.

Rajesh G, Assistant Director, Kannada and Culture Department, Dakshina Kannada, said the department does not have any statistics about the Bhootaradhane performers in the district as no survey has been conducted so far. However, he roughly put their numbers at 5,000. The performers of Bhootaradhane are Scheduled Castes community and belong to Nalike, Pambada and Parava castes who are mostly farm labourers.

Prabhakar Shantigodu, president, Nalike Samaja Seva Sangha, Belthangady, welcomed the government's announcement. However, he said along with the performers, the musicians involved in the ritual should also be given pension. Bhootaradhane is performed between October and May. Shantigodu said the performers earn Rs 2,000 to Rs 7,000 per event.

Don't fall prey to conspirators: Jagan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Vijayawada

Andhra Pradesh CM YS Jagan Mohan Reddy addresses a public meeting at Avanigadda in Krishna district on Thursday | EXPRESS

ANDHRA Pradesh Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy said it will be a war, every day for the next 19 months, between good and evil, poor and feudalist, forces striving for social justice, and forces bent on disruption and anarchy.

Addressing a large public meeting at Avanigadda in Krishna district on Thursday, organized for the distribution of confirmation letters to farmers for their denotified Sharathugala Patta lands, from the list of prohibited lands, the CM said that it will be war between the YSRC government which provided welfare benefits directly to 87 percent of the state population without any discrimination and corruption.

Stating that in this war, conspiracies will only increase in coming days, the CM cautioned people against the statements made to mislead them. "I urge you all not to fall prey to this conspirators and media houses promoting them. Dont fall for their conspiracy to cheat and mislead you. Only believe in yourselves and ask if any good was done to you and your families. Take this as only measure. If you belive some thing good happened to you than stand by Jagan," he said and asserted that he might not have support of media houses, but he has blessings of God and people.

Responding to Jana Sena Chief Pawan Kalyan's vehement outburst on Tuesday, Jagan said those leaders, who have nothing to make claims about, are resorting to profanities. "Those who call themselves leaders, flash slippers, threatening to thrash those who criticize them. Really, are they our leaders?" he wondered.

Health camp on menopausal health held

BENGALURU: KC General Hospital on Thursday organised a health camp for middle-aged women (40-65 years) to mark World Menopause Day. Around 50 women were screened for breast and cervical cancer and bone mineral density among others and were educated about adopting an holistic approach towards menopausal health. Dr Sheela V Mane, former president, Bengaluru Menopause Society (BMS), explained that women experiencing menopause require an all-round approach in maintaining their health. Hot flashes, urinary disturbances, anxiety problems, depression, sexual problems and low estrogen levels are a few of the symptoms, she said. Dr Shobha N Gudi, current president of BMS, pointed out that menopausal phase is a critical transition in a woman's life as they undergo hormonal changes. "Hence, it is important to extend a support system for them and provide preventive healthcare for non communicable diseases like cancer as they are more at risk," she said. ENS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Tumakuru

FOLLOWING massive flooding on the newly developed Bengaluru-Mysuru Express Highway due to heavy rain, a stretch of the Bengaluru-Pune National Highway-48 was inundated as water overflowed from a tank, on Thursday morning.

Traffic came to a standstill for many hours on the Bengaluru-Pune National Highway-48 as the two lanes of the highway beside the service road were clogged as water flowed onto the road from the outlay of the Hebbaka tank. Connection to the main road was severed for several villages, while a private school in the vicinity was marooned.

Deputy commissioner YS Patil along with tahsildar GV Mohankumar and revenue staff swung into action with excavators, and the water receded gradually. The locals complained that raising the height of the sluice unscientifically of the Hebbaka tank resulted in the floods, affecting their residential area and the farms. K'taka releases 'highest' water to TN in 48 years

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

WITH incessant rain lashing the old Mysuru region and reservoirs and tanks almost full in the Cauvery catchment areas, excess water has flowed to Tamil Nadu this time, said to be the highest in the past 48 years. This is considered to be the highest discharge of water from Karnataka after the reorganisation of states. Though Karnataka has to release 101 tmc ft of water to Tamil Nadu as per the Cauvery Tribunal's verdict, the former has discharged 452.5 tmc ft of water between June and September this year.

Irrigation officials in Tamil Nadu have been releasing water from the Mettur reservoir on a regular basis as it is almost full now.

Speaking with The New Indian Express, M N Kiran, Executive Director, Hampi Zoo said that there was a plan to bring giraffes from the Bannerghatta Biological Park in Bengaluru but they did not work out. "The state zoo authority and Hampi zoo are in talks with different biological parks in India looking for newer animals, including giraffes," he said.

The zoo has several animals which have been rescued from the wild and from the human-wildlife conflict zones. Some of the animals under rehab have been accommodated for public view. No accommodation given to us for nearly 30 hours, says flyer

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT

VASHISHTA added that most flyers empathised with the situation and had no problems until they landed on Istanbul airport. "The passenger was taken away and we were told that the aircraft would take off after refuelling which was being done. 45 minutes later, we were told that the oxygen canisters on board had to be refilled as they were used for the ill passenger. We were seated inside the aircraft for 4.5 hours."

Almost 20 per cent of the passengers were senior citizens and some had already flown 15 hours from US or Canada to board this fight from Frankfurt, he added. The passengers were later told that they had to alight and would be taken to the lounge. As the passengers were stepping out of the aircraft, Turkish officials said they needed a visa to enter their soil, the businessman explained. Finally, they were allowed only in the lounge.

Grammy award winner Ricky Kej, who was also on the flight, told TNIE, "Three very important meetings of mine have now been cancelled and two postponed. Also, I need to fly tomorrow to San Francisco for a concert and I did not get time to rehearse. Since a new boarding pass was not issued, most of the shops did not allow us to buy anything as they wanted a valid pass," Kej said.

Vashishta's brother Agasthya Jayanti said, "We were told to occupy only one section of the lounge. No accommodation was provided for us for nearly 30 hours. It felt like being inside a jail and we were like hostages there. We were told multiple times that the flight would take off but that never happened." When the passengers protested and blocked the lounge, airport police were called and we faced the threat of being arrested," he said. Vashishta and his friends finally took an Oman Air flight, paid over Rs 50,000 per ticket and reached the city on their own.

SLANTED REPORT ON JAYA'S DEATH DOES LITTLE FOR JUSTICE

The Arumughaswamy Commission of Inquiry that probed the death of former chief minister J Jayalalithaa appears to have gone on a fishing expedition, looking for a conspiracy in the line of her medical treatment. However, major interventions were decided through consensus. In the process, it tries to smear the reputation of highly regarded medical practitioners though it has no professional competence to do so. The panel's report tabled in the Tamil Nadu Assembly recently indicted Jaya's then aide V K Sasikala while recommending a probe against the then state health minister C Vijayabaskar, a couple of IAS officers and a few doctors. Jaya was declared dead on December 5, 2016, after 75 days of intensive treatment as an in-patient at Apollo Hospitals in Chennai. During her stay at the hospital, specialists from AIIMS, Delhi and a battery of international experts were consulted.

Apart from chronic diabetes, pneumonia and obesity, she had cardiac issues that led to fluid in her lungs. The question of whether or not she required a coronary angiogram, as some vegetation was noticed in her heart scan, drew varied opinions from consultants. The team of doctors treating her took a holistic view through mutual consultation and decided to put it off. The commission went after them for the deferment though renowned British interventionist Dr Richard Beale concurred on postponing the elective angio/surgery. However, curiously, the commission wondered why Jaya was not shifted abroad, citing the same Dr Beale it had joined issue with on the angio issue; he had proposed to fly her out for treatment. Apparently, the commission was trying to peddle its plot theory though the patient had specifically decided not to leave India. Selective picking of material to build a narrative does not serve the purpose of justice. Also, shockingly, the commission brushed aside the opinion of a committee of AIIMS experts constituted by the Supreme Court to examine the treatment record, since the Arumughaswamy panel did not have the domain expertise to judge it. Yet, the panel judged the AIIMS committee's report that found everything was in order, and dumped it.

Sadly, it was not Sherlock Holmes at work. It was instead a hit job with a predetermined conclusion, fleshed out through depositions, documents and erroneous interpretations running into 480 pages put together over five years. The Stalin government ought to bring closure to the matter by sending the slanted report to the dustbin of history.

GOVERNOR'S ACTIONS MUST FIT HIS STATURE

In a society like ours, democracy works not solely on neatly carved out rules and conventions, but more on 'gentleman agreements' arrived between persons positioned as adversaries. Though the positions of the chief minister and governor are not that of adversaries, most often, issues erupt that place them on opposite sides. The equation between Kerala Governor Arif Mohammed Khan and the ruling front has not been smooth for quite some time. Of late, the relationship has metamorphosed into a confrontation, with the governor refusing to sign two major bills passed by the state assembly. The ongoing tussle touched an all-time low with the governor's recent tweet warning ministers of "withdrawal of pleasure"—a hint that he has the power to sack them—if their statements lowered the dignity of his office.

What irked the governor was a remark by Higher Education Minister R Bindu criticising his interference in the functioning of universities. Whatever the provocation, issuing veiled intimidation to an elected government does not augur well for democracy. Constitutional experts have made it clear the governor did exceed his brief with such a needless threat. According to the Constitution, the governor is required to follow the advice of the ministry in all matters. The SC has also made its stand clear on the arbitrary use of gubernatorial discretion. A Constitutional Bench pointed out in 2018 that "the area for exercising his (governor's) discretion is limited. Even in this limited area, his choice of action should not be arbitrary or fanciful."

It is highly improbable that Khan, a seasoned politician, would be unaware of the delicate balance prescribed by the Constitution to delineate the interplay of power between the governor and the state government. Engaging in a war of words with the chief minister on a daily basis is in itself unbefitting of his stature. In fact, such provocative acts would only lower the dignity of his office. By immersing himself in unwanted controversies, Khan has landed in a piquant situation. Even those who initially thought there was merit in his interventions have come to suspect his designs. He needs to urgently stop taking shots at the government needlessly and re-establish the credibility of his position.

QUICK TAKE

PROHIBITIVE PROHIBITION

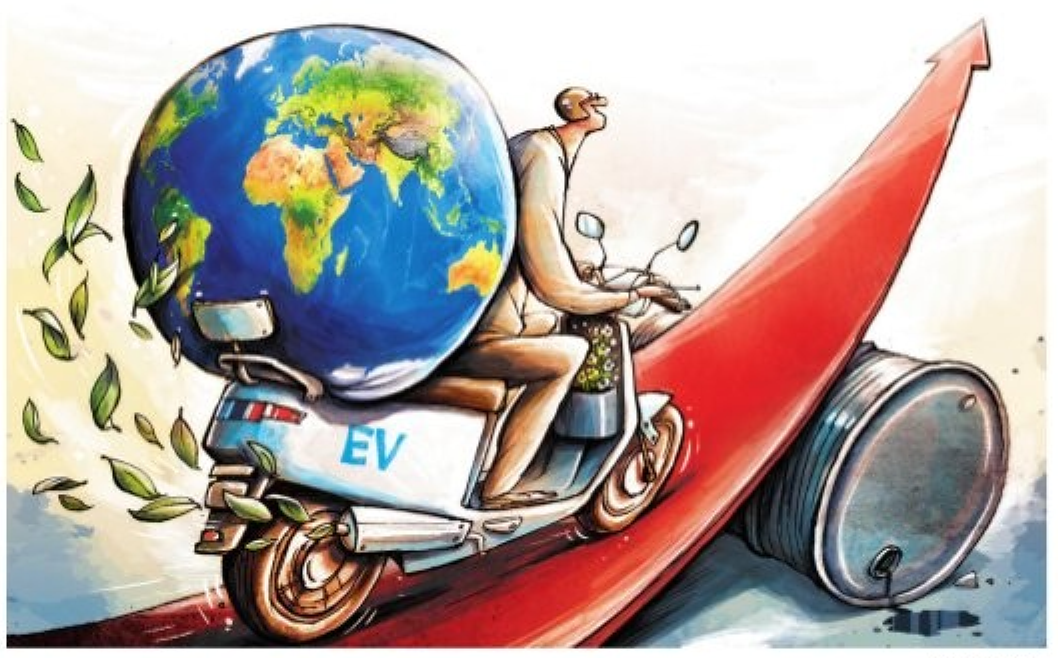
The judiciary raps the Bihar government yet again over lax enforcement of prohibition in the state. On Tuesday, a Patna high court judge blamed state officials' deliberate inaction for hooch tragedies, liquor smuggling, and growing narcotics use by the youth. Previously, the Supreme Court flayed Bihar for lakhs of prohibition violators languishing in jails and their bail cases clogging the courts. The JDU backs the law and believes it fetches them more women's votes. Prohibition has spawned a parallel, illegal economy involving smuggled, spurious or illicit liquor. Nothing short of its total review can bring the situation back on track.

With consumers' growing demand for climate action, adopting Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) measures are important for businesses of all sizes to thrive

STRIKING BALANCE BETWEEN GROWTH AND SUSTAINABILITY

NAVEEN MUNJAL

Managing Director of Hero Electric Vehicle Pvt Ltd



SOUMYADIP SINHA

Times are evolving. With each passing day, conscious consumerism is becoming ever more important. Gone are the days wherein the only important milestone that mattered to an investor was the steady increase in the company's profit. With climate change actively forcing us to rethink the way we conduct business, many companies have responded by announcing net-zero or carbon-neutral commitments by pledging to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and investing in climate action.With a rapidly growing demand for climate action amongst consumers, adopting Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) measures are now more important than ever for businesses of all sizes to thrive in the present and create a sustainable future.

Environmental, Social and Governance matters of any business are interlinked with each other, and with the effects of the current Covid-19 pandemic, ESG, rightfully so, now plays a very important role from the standpoint of investors, policymakers and other key stakeholders. This is simple: it is a modern, reliable and thorough way to safeguard businesses from future risks.

Simply put, the 'E' in ESG focuses on the impact of resource consumption of any business on the environment. This could be a carbon footprint, wastewater discharge, and other environment-impacting activities. The Social criterion looks at how a business interacts with the communities where it operates. It also concerns itself with internal policies related to labour, diversity, and inclusion. The Governance aspect of ESG relates to internal practices and policies that lead to effective decision-making and legal compliance.

The effect of ESG is that it facilitates topline growth in the long run, attracts talent, reduces costs, and, most importantly, it solidifies a sense of trust among consumers. The reasons behind its importance cannot be underestimated in this day and age. Our society no longer depends solely on the government; there is also a huge amount of reliance on well-oiled businesses that meet all their needs, be it employment creation, equitable growth, protection of natural resources and safeguarding consumer interests. Given the unforeseen risks of a pandemic and the climate crisis and its impact on the global economy, many investors and policymakers realise a greater need to accelerate investments in and progress of-businesses which prioritise ESG.

Considering all of this, it is not hard to see why investors are increasingly considering sustainable, responsible and ethical practices when assessing corporate performance and risk. Even for banks and the non-banking financial sector, neglecting ESG risk as part of their credit appraisal process is becoming hard to value and mitigate the risk, price it, and suitably adjust loans. More than that, beyond the financial aspect of it, ESG is now considered critical in building an organisation's public image, making it an attractive investment destination and increasing access to ESG-focused capital.

Closer home, the effects of ESG measures are plain to see. The Business Responsibility and Sustainability Reporting (BRSR) aims to link a business' financial results with its ESG. SEBI has mandated that BRSR will apply to the top 1000 listed entities, and this would make it easier for evaluation by investors.

It is important to note here that the Reserve Bank of India joined The Network of Central Banks and Supervisors for Greening the Financial System (NGFS) back in April 2021, which is a milestone event as it is likely to support India in its efforts towards policy formation and building a climate risk-resilience in the financial sector.

There are big changes to the Indian automotive sector, too, with regard to ESG. Positive changes in the electric vehicle policies coupled with rising fuel costs, supplemented by significantly lower running and maintenance costs spread over the lifetime of the electric vehicle, have ensured that EVs are witnessing a huge uptick in adoption rates across India.

It must be added that several auto manufacturers have, rather quickly, rolled out electric vehicles, which, despite a higher sticker price compared to their combustion-engine counterparts, have been lapped up by consumers. Hero Electric has been at the forefront of this revolution for well over a decade now with the simple aim of proving that high-quality electric two-wheelers do not have to cost much more than their internal combustion-engine counterparts and that the benefits of going electric are not simply restricted to saving on fuel costs.

From an environmental standpoint, early acceptance and adoption of this technology will set the ball rolling, enable a large, pan-India charging network, and spur further growth, especially in the energy generation sector. Eventually, from the manufacture of EVs, the charging infrastructure, or the EVs themselves, pollution levels from such vehicles will be close to zero.

To accelerate EV adoption, we will need to set up battery manufacturing facilities in India. In that regard, there has been a very good response to the government's PLI scheme on advanced chemistry cell batteries. The optimism is high for India to start producing batteries in as little as 18 months. Even the ₹76,000 crore incentive for semiconductor localisation is a very good start and will prompt companies to come to India with this governmental support for setting up manufacturing in the country. The demand has already been there, and when we consider EVs, the penetration is less than 5% of the overall market. Considering that, there is still massive room for growth in the consumption of semiconductor chips in the automotive sector.

Going forward, India, much like the rest of the world, will need to strike the right balance of an aggressive push towards growth on the one hand, all the while keeping a check on sustainability via ESG measures on the other. This tightrope walk will ensure manufacturers that blend innovation and mindfulness will emerge and establish a future-proof organisation. Businesses will have to evolve not only to be profitable but also to be mindful of their carbon footprint. The end goal has been clearly defined; all that is left now is to thread our way as responsibly and sustainably as possible to that goal.

I truly believe that the future is electric, bright and green!

SENSITIVE REPORTING IS THE FIRST STEP TO PREVENT SUICIDES

JUSTICE V PARTHIBAN (RETD)

Retired Judge, Madras High Court

The print and electronic media coverage of the schoolgirl's tragic death in Kallakurichi, unceasing to date, gets one thinking. September 10 is observed every year as World Suicide Prevention Day. According to the World Health Organisation (WHO), approximately eight lakh people die of suicide every year in the world, out of which India's share is about one lakh lives. The WHO has issued comprehensive guidelines to the media about reporting incidents of suicide.

Taking a cue from the WHO guidelines, the Press Council of India and the Suicide Prevention and Implementation Research Initiative (SPIRIT) have also issued SOPs. The primary mandate is to eschew sensationalism. Years of research led to these guidelines to prevent 'simulated suicides'.

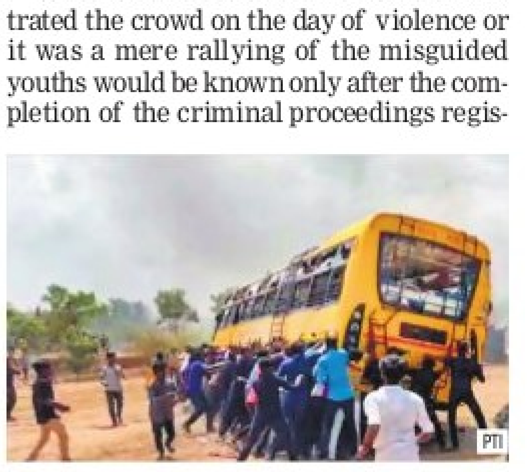
Unfortunately, the media has sacrificed these principles to gain traction and TRPs. Camouflaged as 'public interest', electronic media, particularly, has pandered to prurience in ideological food fights.

In the famed Aarushi Talwar murder case, the Supreme Court had to intervene in a scandalous media trial to usher in guidelines for the media to go by. Alas, they were complied with in the breach as the media went to trial despite the cautionary suggestion from Justice Satishkumar of Madras High Court. Imagination and speculation ran rife as scandalous imputations were peddled as facts. Debates and discussions abounded, with the media as the prosecutor, jury and judge, at the cost of truth and the rule of law.

Bizarre versions of the schoolgirl's death were circulated on reckless social media, encouraging mischief-mongers to spread vile canards with impunity, unmindful of insidious effects on the psyche of society at large. And political parties joined in the cacophony.

Media influence was immediate and impactful. A 'sympathetic' crowd which assembled outside the school to 'demand justice', turned into a rudderless motley group indulging in the rampage of school property. It was tragic that the 'school' administration was pronounced guilty and instant punishment was meted out by damaging vehicles and other assets in the compound. The scholastic records of students were not immune to mob destruction. The rioters ran amok, despite a posse of police officers who remained mute witnesses. Mob frenzy at its fanatic worst, all carried live to our drawing rooms, fuelling the animal spirits of the mobsters. The subdued response, or lack thereof, of the police officers posted at the place of the crime, was woefully pathetic. The saving grace was that it was not a working day, and no loss of lives of innocents was reported. In the aftermath, when the police, as if on an afterthought, swung into action to arrest scores of people allegedly involved in the intense violence, the vigilante media and the participants in the talk shows of various hues had free rein in ranting and conducting declamatory sessions on prime-time television, haranguing their ill-founded opinions on the basis of their ideological and baseless positions.

Whether antisocial elements had infiltrated the crowd on the day of violence or it was a mere rallying of the misguided youths would be known only after the completion of the criminal proceedings registered against the arrested persons. It was obvious to the independent and discerning that from the very day of the incident, a well-orchestrated campaign appeared to have been launched on electronic and social media platforms, planting stories of murky foul play in the death of the innocent girl. It was a pity that sanity got crushed in the bargain. The sentiments of the parents mourning the loss of their beloved were ruthlessly exploited by vested interests.



PTI

An act of suicide may result from one or multiple reasons that are complex, multi-faceted, and truly unfathomable. Emotional turbulence and torment suffered by the individual hardly get revealed or manifested in their behaviour fully before the irretrievable decision is cruelly implemented. Incidence of suicide is on the increase among school and college students, and the most dominant of all reasons, inarguably, is peer pressure. Today, students are constantly subjected to competitive pressure to perform, to prepare them for the rat race and facilitate them to attain the so-called success in life. The impelling anxiety fundamentally stems from society. Then it becomes the duty of the parents to apply pressure on their children: further, the duty is passed on to the educational institutions. Ultimately, the monstrous system inflicts pressure on the brittle students.

Students are not allowed to relax and are not allowed to lead a normal upbringing or enjoy their studenthood, either by parents or the school/college management. The collective mindset of society is oriented entirely towards success in material terms. In the bargain, the academic achievers are glorified as the only worthy examples of inspiration to be followed by all others who are forced to seek identity or recognition on that score. The great Albert Einstein presciently said, "This crippling of individuals, I consider the worst evil of capitalism. Our whole educational system suffers from this evil. An exaggerated competitive attitude is inculcated into the student, who is trained to worship acquisitive success as a preparation for his future career."

From the observations of two learned judges of the Madras High Court in connected proceedings, it turns out that no foul play could be deduced from the postmortem/autopsy reports. The postmortem was done by experts picked by the court, with due notice to the parents, who had certain misgivings about the choice of pathologists. What is regrettable is that the naysayers are still fairly unwilling to accept the findings of two justices of a constitutional court. They have nefarious designs, and that needs exposure. The parents have become sad pawns on the chessboard of those who have their moves to make.

Alas, for the parents, 'the most painful goodbyes are the ones that are never said and never explained'. After all, the truth is that there is always a killer in every suicide. But quite ironically, the killer herein appears to be the society at large. The moral of the story is: Sensitive reporting of suicide incidents is part of the strategy towards preventing suicides. It is time for media moguls in print, electronic, and social media to introspect whether the reportage on the girl's death was equally tragic.

Fresh start for Kharge

The political conflict in the Congress has finally come to an end with Kharge winning. Let him now keep the party afloat amid the current political turbulence. A victory is not a conclusion but a fresh start. The grand old party has our best wishes.

Win and loss part of life

Apropos of No surprise as Kharge wins Cong poll (Oct 20). Winning and losing is a part of life, so Tharoor losing should not impede the Congress' progress. Mallikarjun Kharge can understand the pulse of the party members and his political experience may rejuvenate the party.

Just a status quo

Apropos of Kharge as Congress chief has to gear up to meet BJP challenge (Oct 21). Kharge will be a willing puppet for the Gandhis. Tharoor's win would have brought dynamism, but Kharge's win has just ensured a status quo.

Compassion towards animals

Apropos of Kerala is not God's country for animals (Oct 20). I felt so bad while reading this column, just knowing that this is the stark reality in the state. Children should be culturally groomed to show compassion to all living creatures.

Harsh reality

I had the privilege of reading Nanditha Krishna's column in The New Indian Express. I have witnessed such harsh treatment being meted out to animals during festivals. Your column should be given wide publicity in educational institutions to sensitise young minds to show compassion to all beings.

Govt plans blend of ancient, modern knowledge

3-day 'Akash Tattva' and 'Space' conference in November will showcase integration of all schools of thought

CHANDAN NANDY AND RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

IN an attempt to legitimise and mainstream "ancient Indian wisdom", the Centre seeks to "amalgamate" this with contemporary science and yet showcase it separately as an "asset of traditional knowledge advantage" at a two-day conference to be held in Dehradun next month.

To this endeavour, the government has roped in not only the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) but also the departments of Science and Technology, Earth Sciences, Scientific and Industrial Research and Biotechnology to champion what it calls panchmahabhoot or the "five basic elements of nature — earth, water, fire, air and space".

The government's move was evident, according to Science and Technology Minister Jitendra Singh, when the Cabinet decided about a month ago to establish a separate cell within the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR) that would deal with "traditional knowledge library".

Claiming that there is a "complex interdependence" between Indian thought, classical knowledge and ancient wisdom" and "contemporary science", Principal Scientific Advisor Dr Ajay Kumar Sood said at a curtain raiser to the November 5-6 programme that "everyone (in India) is trying to understand the science of panchmahabhoot".

ISRO Chairman Dr S Somnath has also thrown in his lot with the government's mission aimed at "developing sustainable life based on panchmahabhoot offers pragmatic solutions to pressing and profound challenges of energy security and environmental degradation".

While Somnath announced that 35 leading speakers will speak on five themes – earth and atmosphere, environment and climate change, space technology, sustainability adaptations and impact of modern technologies, the brochure for today's curtain raiser said that the "Bharatiya thought believes in harmonising human life with nature. In order to protect the environment, it is imperative that this approach is highlighted and presented to the world at a global level".

Holding the "modern western approach of conquering and exploiting nature to meet the comfort and greed of human beings at the expense of the ecosystem" responsible for the "evolving threat" to "sustainability and survival", the brochure claims that "our ancient Indian wisdom recognised the importance of maintaining the crucial balance between the five elements of nature" which was "achieved through various means which were both scientific and ahead of their time".

Insisting that the Dehradun conference will be "an opportunity to tell the world where India stands today in space", Singh said that "traditional knowledge systems have relevance for modern scientific knowledge". This was reflected, for instance, in two seminars on "classical concepts of Akash Tatva" and "strategic aspects of disturbances in Akash Tatva, like weather modification, space warfare and climate migration".

Singh said that India's ascent to the world comity of Nations will happen via Space Technology. He said that PM Narendra Modi provided a special impetus in the last over 8 years to all the scientific pursuits including Space Technology and added that the extension of applications of Space Technology to different sectors and areas brought 'ease of living' for common man. Singh informed that 35 eminent speakers will share their thoughts on various dimensions of Akash Tattva during the Dehradun Conclave.

Union Minister Dr Jitendra Singh briefs the media about the upcoming conference in New Delhi on Thursday. Also seen are Secretaries of different Science Ministries in Government of India.

Garuda, Chakra, and the global police cooperation

THE CBI has launched 'Operation Garuda' with a strong intent to disrupt, degrade, and dismantle networks, with international linkages, involved in drug trafficking. The Interpol channels are used for exchange of criminal intelligence on drug trafficking and coordinated law enforcement action across international jurisdictions through Interpol. During this special operation, 6600 suspects were checked, 127 new cases were registered, and 175 persons, including six absconders were arrested.

CBI has also launched 'Operation Chakra' to track down cyber criminals who indulge in financial crimes and fraud. This new mission has been launched against cyber-enabled crime networks on the basis of international inputs and in coordination with Interpol, FBI, and police forces of multiple countries against cyber criminals involved in financial crimes.

The CBI registered 11 cases against cyber criminals involved in financial fraud using the internet and 28 locations were raided by the state police forces.

After the First World War, the idea of an international police body was revived by Johannes Schober, President of the Vienna Police. As a result, Interpol was formed at the close of the five days session of the International Criminal Police Commission in September 1923 with headquarters in Vienna.

Hate speech: SC notice to Centre on plea seeking action against leaders

SHRUTI KAKKAR @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday issued notice to the Centre in a petition filed by Shaheen Abdullah seeking action under penal statutes & UAPA against speakers involved in delivering provocative speeches targetting Muslim community as well as organisations providing platforms to such speakers.

A bench of Justices Ajay Rastogi and CT Ravikumar tagged Abdullah's petition which also sought independent probe into the incidents of hate speech and hate crimes against Muslim community with the batch of pleas seeking to curb hate speech.

Urging the bench to take action against the leaders involved in such speeches, senior advocate Kapil Sibal said, "Something needs to be done. If courts also do not do anything then God will save this country." Taking exception to Sibal's remarks, Justice Rastogi said, "do not take our institutions or this country for granted. It (hate speeches) will go on. Adding that the court can take cognisance against individuals upon registration of FIR, the bench termed the reliefs sought in the plea as vague.

The petition had argued that despite the fact that the court being cognisant of the genocidal speeches and hate crimes against Muslims made at several events and passing several orders directing the concerned authorities to take appropriate action, the circumstances of the country only seemed to be worsening with the growing radicalisation of the Hindu community and the propagation of widespread hate against Muslims. "Action seems to be forthcoming against the speakers or the parties that organise such events where genocidal and hateful speeches are delivered. In most cases, minimal action of merely registering FIRs and that too under lesser offences, is the only thing that is done by the authorities which seems to be more of a formality than any genuine initiation of the criminal machinery. The Government also refrains from publicly condemning the growing incidents of verbal and physical assault against Muslims across the country, despite being the guardian of all the citizens of this country," the petition had stated.

The bench on September 21 had asked the Modi government to indicate within two weeks its stand as to whether it intends to bring any law to curb the menace.

New Delhi: THE Supreme Court on Thursday refused urgent hearing of a plea filed by BJP MP Manoj Tiwari seeking to lift the blanket ban imposed by the Delhi Pollution Control Committee on firecrackers. Responding to the court's remark, the counsel for Tiwari argued that air pollution was also due to stubble burning. However, the bench turned down the plea and said it would hear the matter later. Last year, the SC had banned some crackers found to be injurious to health.

PM, UN chief launch Mission LiFE, global leaders lend support

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA & YESHI SELI @ Ahmedabad/New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi and United Nations Secretary General Antonio Guterres on Thursday launched Mission LiFE, a global plan of action aimed at saving the planet from the disastrous consequences of climate change, at the Statue of Unity in Gujarat.

PM Modi said that whenever India and the United Nations have worked together, new ways of making the world a better place have been discovered.

Elaborating on India and UN tie-ups, Modi said, "India had proposed the International Day of Yoga, which was supported by the United Nations. Today it is inspiring millions of people around the world to lead a healthy life."

Giving the example of the International Year of Millets, which found profound support for the United Nations, the PM said that India wanted to connect the world with its traditional, eco-friendly and coarse cereals.

He said that the International Year of Millets next year will be discussed worldwide.

Highlighting the importance of unity in the fight against climate change, PM Modi said that the launch of Mission LiFE is taking place before the Statue of Unity, a colossal statue of the pride of India, Sardar Vallabh Bhai Patel. "The world's largest statue will be a source of inspiration in achieving the set targets," he said.

Leaders from across the world, including president Macron of France, president of Maldives and UK's outgoing prime minister Liz Truss, congratulated PM Modi for launching Mission LiFE (Lifestyle for the Environment).

TO KEEP EARTH SAFE FROM ASTEROIDS

Aiming to keep Earth safe from incoming asteroids, MIT researchers have developed a toolkit — to be called Asteroid Interior Mapping from Encounters — that can help scientists take a better aim at the space rocks to deflect them from their Earth-bound course and keep our planet safe. In late September, NASA scored a bulls-eye, striking an asteroid while conducting the Double Asteroid Redirection Test. The MIT team's toolkit can map an asteroid's interior structure.

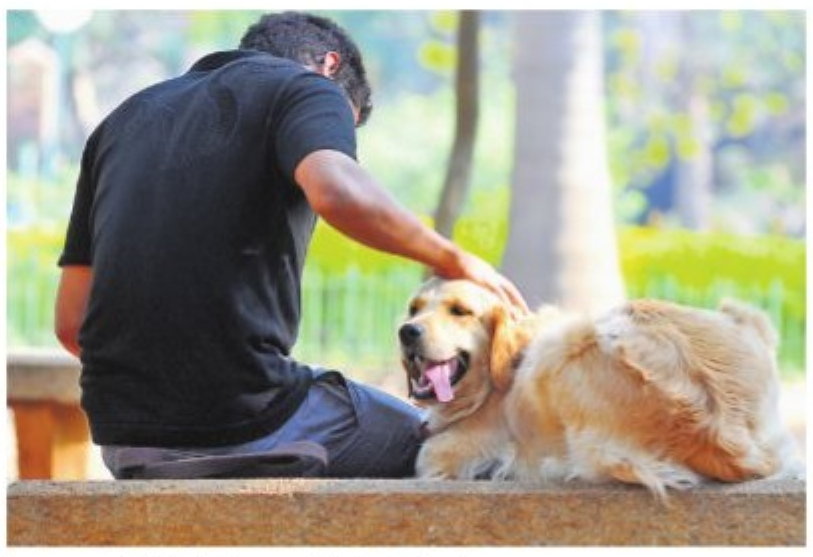
DOGS KNOW WHEN YOU'RE STRESSED



An owner with his dog in a park in Bengaluru | EXPRESS

It is not for any paltry reason that canines are known to be the humans' best friends. Researchers have now found out that dogs can actually smell out if you are stressed or not with an accuracy of 93.75 per cent. Researchers from Queen's University Belfast, UK, found that dogs are sensitive to the odours emitted by the human body constituting chemical signals evolved for communication, primarily within species. Given the remarkable capability of smell among the canines, besides their history of proximity with the humans who are given to anxiety, and panic attacks, the researchers wondered whether dogs could sense chemical signals to respond to their owners' psychological conditions. The research team found that the dogs could smell odours released due to changes in the volatile organic compounds that occurs during stress.

'REWILDING AGRI LANDS WITH HUMAN INTERVENTION CAN RESTORE ECOSYSTEM'

Rewilding agricultural landscapes using farming practice, instead of without it, can help restore ecosystems and produce high-welfare, high-quality food, researchers say. Rewilding is a process of ecological restoration with an emphasis on recreating an area's natural uncultivated state. But in this case, it is done with active human intervention as against the conventional rewilding in which human intervention is reduced or completely eliminated. A study by researchers from University of Exeter, UK, and the French National Research Institute for Agriculture, Food, and the Environment, found that rewilding can help overcome concerns about the impact of rewilding on livelihoods and produce a win-win environmental and human benefits, according to the researchers. They found that extensive farming, while pursuing rewilding part of agricultural landscapes, offered an advantage as livestock could be kept in their naturalistic conditions. This, they found, restored biodiversity and regenerated the ecosystem function, while still contributing to agricultural and higher meat production.

BJP caught in rift between old & new guards

In MP, an old-timer expelled from party for six years for social media post against a Jyotiraditya Scindia loyalist

ANURAAG SINGH @Bhopal

CALL it a battle between camps or a divide separating the old from the new, but the BJP in Madhya Pradesh is certainly experiencing internal turmoil. And the first round seems to have gone in the favour of the 'new' BJP in Sagar district of Bundelkhand region.

Rajkumar Singh Dhanaura, the Sagar district chief of the party's Kisan Morcha, has been removed from the organisational post and also expelled from the party for six years, apparently for a social media post published against MP Transport Minister Govind Singh Rajput.

While Dhanaura is a close relative of state's Urban Development Minister Bhupendra Singh (considered close to CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan), Rajput is said to be among Jyotiraditya Scindia loyalists.

Singh as well as Rajput represent separate seats in Sagar district. While Singh is an MLA from Khurai, Rajput represents the Surkhi seat. Singh has also won from Surkhi seat twice in the past.

Dhanaura had recently taken to social media platforms, demanding that a local resident and not outsider candidate be fielded by the BJP from Surkhi seat in the 2023 Assembly polls. The post was seen as targeting sitting MLA Govind Singh Rajput, whose village is situated in the adjoining Naryawali-SC constituency of Sagar district.

According to party insiders, the matter was communicated to higher levels in the party by Rajput, after which Dhanaura was removed as head of Kisan Morcha in Sagar, and also expelled from the party for six years.

Sharing his side of the story with the media, Dhanaura broke down on Wednesday.

"I met state party president VD Sharma with folded hands and tendered my unconditional apology. But the party for which I religiously worked for last three decades threw me out like an insect within a minute," Dhanaura said.

When asked by journalists about why his relative and minister Bhupendra Singh didn't come to his rescue, Dhanaura said, "Sometimes such a situation builds up, when someone, despite wanting to help, cannot actually come forward to support you. This is what happened in my case. Had he (Bhupendra Singh) fought for my cause, it would have sent the wrong message of him intervening in the Assembly constituency of Govind Singh Rajput."

The sacked leader further alleged that old BJP leaders and workers of Surkhi Assembly constituency are being implicated in false criminal cases at the behest of those who came into the BJP from Congress along with Rajput in March 2020.

Sagar district has three Cabinet ministers in Shivraj Singh Chouhan's government, including BJP veteran Gopal Bhargava and Bhupendra Singh (both old BJP warhorses). Rajput was among the 22 Scindia loyalist Congress MLAs who pulled down the 15-month-old Kamal Nath government in March 2020.

Meanwhile, making the best of Dhanaura's expulsion from the BJP and subsequent press conference held by the sacked BJP leader (whose father was with BJP since Jan Sangh days), state Congress spokesperson Narendra Saluja targeted the saffron party.

"Sacking of MP minister Bhupendra Singh's relative Rajkumar Singh Dhanaura for opening front against Scindia loyalist minister Govind Singh Rajput exposes how the tikaus (dependable old BJP men) are being shown the way out to appease the bikaus (saleable new BJP leaders)," Saluja said.

Festive cheer: ₹2.5K cr farm outreach by Maha govt

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

THE Maharashtra government on Thursday released ₹2,500 crore as a Diwali gift to the eligible farmers who have paid their loan on time. The 7 lakh beneficiary farmers will receive ₹50,000 each as an incentive for timely payment of their crop loan.

Chief Minister Eknath Shinde said that Maharashtra is the first state to deposit money directly into the account of the farmers on the occasion of Diwali. He added that farmers should not get tired due to the damage caused to their crops by the heavy rains during this monsoon season.

"We are committed to helping the farmers," Shinde said. "We have decided to give an incentive amount to the farmers who make regular repayments of their crop loan. We had earlier assured farmers that they would get their money without any delay. Today, it has been released and money has been deposited in the bank accounts of 6.90 lakh farmers. This decision will add a sweet touch to their Diwali celebrations," he added.

The erstwhile Uddhav Thackeray government, under the Mahatma Jyotirao Phule Shetkari Debt Relief Scheme (MJPSDRS), had waived chronic defaulter farmers' loan up to ₹2 lakh each, but at the same time, had also announced ₹50,000 incentive to farmers who had repaid their crop loan on time.

Shinde on Thursday released ₹2,500 crore and paid ₹50,000 each to the eligible farmers time. The government deposited ₹2,500 crore in the accounts of 6.90 lakh farmers.

The chief minister added that the government is also concerned about farmers whose crops got damaged in the returning monsoon.

"We have taken decisions to give relief to farmers. The relief amount has been doubled under the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) norms. We have also increased compensation for three hectares of damaged crops against the earlier provision of two acres only. We are committed to helping the farmers. We have directed to make the panchnama immediately and provide assistance to them," Shinde added. He also said that the state government is approving the stalled irrigation projects in an effort to bring maximum land under irrigation.

Nitish ruffles BJP, RJD feathers with EBC quota panel

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

A day after the Bihar government constituted a special commission to review the political backwardness of Extremely Backward Classes (EBCs), paving the way for their reservation in urban local body polls, the BJP as well as RJD took potshots at the Nitish Kumar government for the way the panel has been constituted. A BJP leader said on Thursday that the government is being controlled by RJD president Lalu Prasad Yadav.

Samrat Choudhary, the leader of Opposition in Bihar Legislative Council, launched a blistering attack on the chief minister, calling him a "rubber stamp CM" and saying that the manner in which the Commission has been constituted gives a clear hint that Lalu is remote-controlling the government. Lalu is currently undergoing medical treatment in Singapore.

> The EBC Commission is headed by JD-U leader Navin Kumar Arya, who is not keeping good health. Nitish has constituted the commission under Lalu's influence
>
> Samrat Choudhary, BJP

"A retired judge of the Supreme Court or high court should also be inducted into the commission for its proper functioning," Choudhary said.

The EBC Commission also includes state JD-U spokesperson Arvind Nishad, JD-U leader Gyanchand Patel and RJD leader Tar Keshar Thakur. It will review the political backwardness of EBCs for fixing their quota in the urban local body elections.

Bihar BJP spokesperson Arvind Singh said that by not appointing an RJD leader as the panel's chairman, the CM has shown a mirror to his allies. He added that Nitish also exposed how he is governing Bihar like a "Talibani" ruler.

RJD leaders also expressed annoyance over the lack of proper representation in the panel. Stressing that the RJD is a major ally in the grand alliance, Rambali Chandravanshi said, "When the post of the chairman of SC/ST Commission was given to JD-U, RJD should have got it in EBC Commission."

The state government had on Wednesday informed Patna High Court that it is going to constitute the commission. The government had also withdrawn its review petitions, which were filed after the court had ordered that reservation of seats for Other Backward Classes (OBCs) and EBCs in the state's urban local body elections without following the triple test criteria as laid down by the Supreme Court was "illegal".

PM: When I wear turban of tribal community, Cong makes fun of it

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

THE country has seen two types of politics regarding tribal welfare, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Thursday, adding that while there are parties with a history of making false promises to the tribal communities, the BJP, on the other hand, has always prioritised their interests.

"When I wear the turban of a tribal community, the Congress makes fun of it, but my tribal brothers and sisters know everything. They will replay it at the proper time," Modi said during a visit to Vyara in Tapi district. "Our government has done the work of ending the injustice being done to the tribals," he added, recalling that there were very few schools in the tribal belt 20-25 years ago.

Modi laid the foundation stone of multiple development initiatives worth over ₹1,970 crore in Vyara, including better road connectivity from Saputara to the Statue of Unity, and water supply projects worth over ₹300 crore in Tapi and Narmada districts.

"Earlier, there was no science school in tribal areas. How could tribal youth become doctors or engineers? But now they are realising their ambitions. Congress did not think of this. We changed the thought," he said, adding, "Today, daughters from Tapi and nearby areas are getting educated here."

Modi also talked about the time when it was difficult to grow and buy millets and maize in the tribal areas. "Today, cashew is cultivated along with fruits like mango, guava and lemon," the PM pointed out.

Modi also blamed the Congress for the worst water situation in Gujarat. "There was a time when only a quarter of the households in the state had water connection. Today 100 per cent of households in Gujarat have piped drinking water," he said. He also spoke about the central government's Poshan Abhiyan under which pregnant women get financial help to procure nutritious food.

Modi also drew attention to the Ayushman Bharat scheme, saying, "Ayushman card is like a gold bar. You can go anywhere with a gold bar and get money instantly. Similarly, if you carry Ayushman card anywhere in the country, the doors of even the biggest hospital will open for treatment."

The PM further stressed that budget for tribal welfare has increased over three times in the last eight years, creating new opportunities for the youth.

Delay in CM's schedule hurting his officers

Maharashtra Chief Minister Eknath Shinde is known for his erratic programme handling such as meeting people late at night to spending more than the scheduled time at personal engagements, resulting in major delays. This has been further hampering the coordination of the chief minister's programmes and his protocol officials are now left piqued. The situation has gone haywire, and now these officials are seeking transfers to other departments. Working hours of these officials have been overshot so much that they are forced to spend extra for late night trips back home from work.

Patole remains absent for Congress matters

Congress party's is in the fourth spot in the state, but what's worse is its leaders have been mired in coarse internal conflict – a situation now other party suffers in the state. Maharashtra Congress chief Nana Patole's absence along with senior leaders Balasaheb Thorat and Ashok Chavan is felt these days with the unit planning for the 'Bharat Jodo Yatra'. Seniors in the party are left to carry on with party affairs without the chief. Recently, a senior delegation went to meet Uddhav Thackeray and Sharad Pawar to extend invitations for the Yatra, and in both meetings, Patole's absence was notable.

BJP-Shinde swift to retract candidate

The BJP-Shinde faction found itself in a fiasco in the run-up to the Andheri East by-polls, prompting them to withdraw its candidate at the eleventh hour. Taking moral high ground, they swiftly extended support to Thackeray's candidate Rutuja Latke even as unrest among the coalition's MLAs grew. The BJP-Shinde faction also found out that the mood seems to be favouring Thackeray's Shiv Sena, sources said, adding that they are more worried about future prospects whether they get re-elected or not. It is no secret that both factions were troubling Rutuja Latke for approving her resignation as BMC employee.

Chill in the air: Gulmarg wrapped in white blanket

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

TOURISTS visiting the famous ski resort of Gulmarg are experiencing a memorable holiday after the upper reaches of Kashmir received the season's first snowfall on Thursday. Gulmarg was covered with a white blanket of snow after it began snowing at night, bringing freezing temperatures earlier than usual this year. About 3-4 inches of snowfall was recorded in the main ski resort while the upper reaches received 6-inch snow.

As the entire plains and upper reaches of Gulmarg wore a carpeted look, many tourists enjoyed a lifetime experience. Several of them had never seen snowfall before.

A recently married couple from Surat in Gujarat said that they could not believe it that they have witnessed snowfall during their first visit to the Valley. "It is a wonderful experience and we are enjoying it. We are very lucky to be here while it is snowing," they told this newspaper.

Chetan Pandya from Maharashtra said they were very excited with the experience.

"This is a perfect time to visit Kashmir and people should visit this place at least once a year," he said. "It is awesome. I cannot describe the feelings in words," Pandya added, stressing that once he returns to his hometown, he would urge everybody to visit Kashmir.

Another tourist from Gujarat said that when they reached here yesterday, the weather was pleasant and there was greenery around.

"However, when we woke up in the morning, the entire Gulmarg was covered with a white blanket of snow. This experience will remain with us throughout our lives," he said.

Aasha Mandoth, a tourist from Ahmedabad said while she has visited Himachal Pradesh and other places, this was her visit to Kashmir.

"This is really a paradise on earth," she added.

Stakeholders in the tourism sector are hopeful that the early snowfall will lead to further increase in footfall of tourists.

An all-time high of over 2 million tourists have visited Kashmir this year so far.

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

The Left Front has once again given a drubbing to the BJP in West Bengal. The CPM, which has outperformed the BJP in all elections after the high-octane 2021 Assembly polls, gathered more numbers even in sale of books during the Durga Puja festival across the state.

Books by Left icons like Karl Marx, Che Guevara and Sitaram Yechury were picked up more at stalls than those by Hindutva champions such as Shyama Prasad Mookerjee and Deendayal Upadhyaya.

The BJP said they sold books worth ₹8 lakh across the state, while the figure was surpassed by just two area committees of the CPM. The CPM's Jadavpur committee sold books worth nearly ₹6 lakh while its Shibpur counterpart in Howrah billed sale worth ₹2 lakh. As per sources, Nadia and Malda also clocked sales of ₹8 lakh and ₹4 lakh, respectively.

Sources in the saffron camp said that a year after the party emerged as the main opposition in Bengal, the BJP managed to set up 4-5 bookstalls in each of its 42 organisational districts, which took the total number to around 200 stalls in the state. On the other hand, with no representation in the 294-seat Assembly, the CPM came up with around 1,300 stalls across the state.

"Our book-selling machinery is not as professional as that of the Left Front. We lacked everywhere, from the number of stalls to the variety of titles on offer,'' a BJP leader said. Party sources said that a book on Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 20 years in public life, titled Modi@20, had a few takers.

Anirudhha Chakraborty, the director of CPM's publishing house National Book Agency, said one of their top sellers was Sudhanva Deshpande's Halla Bol: The Death And Life of Safdar Hashmi.

CCI slaps penalty of ₹1,337 crore on Google

Watchdog also ordered it to not offer incentives to smartphone makers for exclusively carrying its search services

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

THE Competition commission of India (CCI) on Thursday fined Alphabet Inc's Google ₹1,337.76 crore for anti-competition practices in relation to the Android mobile devices.

The competition watchdog also ordered it to not offer any incentives to smartphone manufacturers for exclusively carrying its search services.

"... the Commission has imposed monetary penalty as well as issued cease and desist order against Google from indulging in anti-competitive practices that have been found to be in contravention of the provisions of Section 4 of the Act," CCI said in a statement.

According to the CCI, compulsory per-installation of the entire Google Mobile Suite(GMS) under the Mobile Application Distribution Agreement (MADA) with no option to uninstall the same and their prominent placement amounts to imposition of an unfair condition on the device manufacturers.

In April 2019, the fair trade regulator had launched a probe against Google for adopting unfair practices. The CCI had observed that the Internet giant leveraged its dominant position in the App Store market for Android operating system to enter as well as protect its position in non-OS specific web browser market via Google chrome app.

Smart mobile devices need an operating system (OS) to run applications (apps) and programs and Android is one such mobile operating systems, which was acquired by Google in 2005. The Commission in the matter has examined various practices of Google licensing of this Android mobile operating system and various proprietary mobile applications of Google (e.g. Play Store, Google Search, Google Chrome, YouTube, etc.).

During the course of inquiry, Google argued about the competitive constraints being faced from Apple. In relation to understanding the extent of competition between Google's Android ecosystem and Apple's iOS ecosystem, the CCI noted the differences in the two business models. which affect the underlying incentives of business decisions.

The Commission examined the substitutability between Google's Play Store for Android OS and Apple's App Sore for iOS and found that there is no substitutability between Google's Play Store and Apple's App Store.

The CCI further noted that there might be some degree of competition between the two mobile ecosystems i.e., Android and Apple, however, that too is also limited at the time of deciding as to which device to buy.

"At that stage also, the Commission was of the considered view that the primary and the most significant factor in the mind of an end user is the hardware specification and the device price," it added.

Air India receives more than 1 lakh job applications

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AIR INDIA (AI) on Thursday claimed it has received more than 1,752 applications for pilots and 72,000 applications for cabin crew in the last two months.

The airline has also received over 25,000 applications in a little over a week from management postgraduates with three years of experience in ground-based business roles and over 2,000 applications for a New Tech centre at Kochi, Kerala. Currently, AI has nearly 12,000 staff, of which 8,000 are permanent and the rest are contractual. The expansion comes as the full-service carrier has laid down aggressive expansion plans to increase its fleet size market share.

Over the next five years, AI has plans to raise its domestic and international (to and from India) market share to 30% and triple its fleet size. "An entire generation of workforce has missed the opportunity to work for AI due to limited recruitment over the years. We are seeking to make up for this organisational gap as we work to make AI the world's leading airline with customer focus at the heart of its operations," said Suresh Dutt Tripathi, chief human resources officer, AI. Increased interest among aviation employees to work for AI comes after its acquisition by the Tata Group in January this year amid falling morale of employees in other private airlines who faced severe pay cuts during peak covid-19 period and delay in restoration of salaries.

As per the Tatas, AI, which had not recruited in non-operations areas for over 15 years, is quickly adding talent in all spheres of its business.

Tuhin Kanta Pandey, secretary in the Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM) and the key official who oversaw AI's privatisation process, said, "Walk-in interviews have begun in AI. People over 65 years of age are being recruited in AI. More people are being called in jobs, which is in contrast to what people were saying earlier. Post-covid, there has been a recovery...more planes mean more MROs, more orders, so the impact of privatisation is huge."

SEBI nod for proposal to convert VIL dues into equity

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) is believed to have approved the government's proposal to convert dues of over $1.92 billion into equity by telecom operator Vodafone Idea Limited (VIL) to equity.

According to reports, India's capital market regulator has communicated this to the Department of Telecommunication (DoT). In January 2022, VIL opted to pay interest of nearly ₹16,000 crore through preferential shares, which makes the government a 32% stakeholder in the company.

The government's stake in Vodafone Idea after the conversion could be more than 30%, a government official said, which would make it one of the largest shareholders in the company, along with the UK's Vodafone Group and Aditya Birla Group. SEBI is believed to have approved the government's request to classify its shareholding in Vodafone Idea as a public float, the official added. The market regulator's guidelines state that only stakes up to 10% can be classified as public shareholding. The government will sell its stake in the telecom operator once it is turned around, the official said. VIL is also planning to raise funds via issuance of convertible debentures. The loss-making telco said it will put up this proposal in a next board meeting on October 21, 2022.

HCL founder Shiv Nadar emerged as the most generous person in the country with a donation of ₹1,161 crore in financial year 2022, according to EdelGive Hurun India Philanthropy List 2022.

The list made public on Thursday noted Nadar, 77, donated ₹3 crore per day between April 1 2021 to March 31, 222.

Wipro's Azim Premji, 77, who is often regarded as one of the biggest philanthropists of this century, slipped to the second position with an annual donation of ₹484 crore after being at the top position for the last two consecutive years.

While Nadar's annual donation fell by 8%, Premji's donation saw a massive decline of 95% in FY22 as against with his FY21 givings.

India's and Asia's richest man Gautam Adani, 60, ranked seventh in the Philanthropy List 2022, with a donation of ₹190 crore. His close rival and second richest billionaire Mukesh Ambani, 65, came in third in the list with a donation of ₹411 crore.

Kumar Mangalam Birla with a donation of ₹242 crore is ranked fourth in the list. Susmita and Subroto Bagchi, alongside Radha and NS Parthasarathy of Mindtree are jointly ranked in the fifth position in the list with a combined donation of ₹425 crore to the Indian Institute of Science (IISc). The contribution will help the institute to build an 800-bed multi-speciality hospital and a postgraduate medical school. The other top philanthropists in the top 10 list are Anil Agarwal of Vendanta, Infosys' Nandan Nilekani and Larson & Toubro's AM Naik. The top 10 in the list cumulatively donated ₹3,378 crore in FY22, as against a combined donation of ₹12,785 crore in the 2021 list. Contributions towards philanthropy have fallen in FY22, basically due to the huge base effect of pandemic spending and an exceptional contribution of ₹7,807 crore last year by Azim Premji to his two philanthropic trusts.

Infosys allows employees to take up gig work with consent of manager

UMA KANNAN @ New Delhi

IT major Infosys has allowed employees to take up gig work with the prior consent of their manager and BP (business partner)-HR.

Infosys is said to be the first company in the IT industry that has come out with guidelines around gig working.

"Any employee, who wishes to take up gig work, may do so, with the prior consent of their manager and BP-HR, and in their personal time, for establishments that do not compete with Infosys or Infosys' clients. We count on our employees to ensure that this does not impact their ability to work with Infosys effectively," the email said.

Recently, in post-Q2 earnings conference, Infosys CEO Salil Parekh said the company encourages employees to pursue their interests outside of work. "But only with the prior consent," he said.

In addition, as per the Infosys employment contract, employees may not work in areas where there is an actual or potential conflict of interest or by accepting dual employment, the email added.

The company further added that it has created several opportunities for gig working internally through its Accelerate platform that enables managers to list gig work jobs for employees. Accelerate allows skill-based job matches to recommend the right gigs for employees and incentivises both gig workers and hiring managers, it said.

While announcing the results recently, Parekh said that they have let go of some employees over the past 12 months who were doing blatant work in two specific companies where there were confidentiality issues.

COAL IMPORTS TO STOP BY 2024: MINISTER

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA is likely to stop coal imports by 2024, Coal minister Pralhad Joshi on Thursday said. The country's total coal output will touch 900 million tonne (MT) this fiscal, the minister added.

While speaking at an event at the office of the Comptroller & Auditor General of India, he said efforts are being made by Coal India and its subsidiaries to attain this goal. "Commercial coal mine auctioning process has been made transparent and institutionalised by the government. Coal import has come down and by 2024 import will be stopped," he said. He added mineral exploration norms have been relaxed recently and 9 private exploration agencies got accredited so far.

This comes after India faced a major coal crisis, which led to power outages in many states in past 2 years. In 2021, stocks at power plants touched lowest to 7.23 MT. In May 2022, at the peak of summer, several states complained their thermal power plants were running out of coal. Subsequently, the government had to issue two 6 MT tenders for importing coal. This time, the government claims to have sufficient coal. As per Central Electricity Authority (CEA), nearly 77 power plants have critical stock till October 20. Meanwhile, Joshi has complemented CAG's office for bringing out the first-ever compendium of asset accounts on mineral assets. He said the report presents a picture of the mineral resources spread across different states.

The biggest transaction involving ₹838 crore was loan disbursement to Aviral Maritime Infrastructure Dahej Private and Adinath Port and Logistics.

Earlier also, forensic auditors had detected fraudulent transactions worth ₹3,000 crore in Srei Equipment finance. Both Srei Infrastructure Finance and Srei Equipment Finance are undergoing corporate insolvency resolution process, and as per the provisions of the insolvency law administrators or resolution professionals are required to identify if the firm undergoing insolvency process has made preferential, fraudulent transactions, undervalued or extortionate transactions in the past.

HEADMASTERS GO BACK TO SCHOOL

After owning the stage for a decade, the original T20 kings, Windies, are facing a 1st-round elimination but rule them out at your own peril

GOMESH S @ Chennai

"I WAS the headmaster at the school you went to"

This is a famous dialogue from a Tamil feature film Pokkiri, where the protagonist says it as a punchline after outwitting one of the villains. If ever there was an international T20I side that could use the same — directing at other teams and it would be justified — it is probably the West Indies men of the decade gone by.

After all, they were the original trailblazers in the shortest format of the game. And it did not begin in 2012 in Sri Lanka. Four years after the advent of the T20 format and a year after the first T20 International was played, the Stanford T20 tournament — the first of its kind featuring several territories — happened in the Caribbean. It was a revelation of sorts as the tournament saw 77 sixes hit over 17 matches with Guyana walking away with $1mn.

Although the tournament didn't survive the test of time, the seeds were sown for the Caribbean revolution in the shortest format. What followed was a decade of world domination in T20s by the West Indies superstars. Name an early record in the format and they owned it.

When the Indian Premier League (IPL) broke ground, there were bidding wars for them. Kieron Pollard and Dwayne Bravo in the 2010 auction, for example. Players were building a legacy of their own, winning titles for the franchises they were turning up for. And it wasn't just a blind gung-ho batting approach, trying to smash every ball. They had mastered the art of six-hitting, death-overs bowling, thinking match-ups and what not. "You think about the mix; four or five bowlers, their attributes, how the captains might use those against you, what damage you can lay upon them," wrote Chris Gayle, arguably the greatest batter to have played the format, in his book 'Six machine'.

Between 2012 to 2016, West Indies were the team to beat in the T20 World Cups. They won the title twice during this period | AFP

And when a bunch of such thinking cricketers with incredible skill sets come together, it is only a matter of time before they become world beaters. Between 2012 to 2016, West Indies were the team to beat in T20 World Cups. Under Darren Sammy, they won the title twice and reached the semifinals in 2014. Now, Sammy might not make an all-star West Indies T20I side as a player. However, it was his leadership that brought the mavericks together and led them to glory. And he did so at a time when the West Indies Cricket Board was under turmoil.

Perhaps, at some level, it is the adversity and the external factors that spurred on the band of superstars to show what they could do. If it was James Faulkner's comments in 2014, two years on, they had more. For starters, they didn't have the team jerseys when they landed in India for the World Cup. Then the 'short of brains' comment from Mark Nicholas, or Virat Kohli riling up Lendl Simmons in the semifinal and more. When Marlon Samuels felt that the world was against him in a World Cup final, there was very little the opponents could do to stop him. However, since then they have not been the same. Six years have gone by, and an entire generation of bonafide T20 legends have moved on. While their stars are still top picks in every franchise leagues, some — Sunil Narine to name one — are not a part of the international side any more. They faced an early exit at the 2021 World Cup. What more, the teams have caught up with them in the last few years. If all that's not enough, they have left out their best batter — Shimron Hetmyer — after he missed a rescheduled flight. That they lost their opening game at the ongoing T20 World Cup against Scotland only hurt them more. Despite all that, they are still a team that can't be written off. Mainly because, more than anyone else, they are aware that West Indies are not the world beaters anymore. They are a team in transition under a young captain in Nicholas Pooran. They have some exciting talents in the squad. At the same time, they know they have shoes that are impossible to fill.

All-rounder Jason Holder put it poignantly in an interview with the ICC. "I am not taking anything away from the past players. But, I think they had the opportunities to be the stars they are and they have done it extremely well. This is a new generation for West Indies cricket," he said in the video shared by the ICC.

"The teams which would have won in 2012 and 2016 were pretty dominant. They had some very big T20 players when you look at that in the context of world cricket. In this current team, we have got some young budding stars who have really established themselves on the circuit. It's just for us now to be a lot more senior, I guess, or spend a bit more time on the international circuit doing some of the things," Holder added in a press conference on Thursday.

West Indies have not yet made it to the Super 12s. In fact, with 80 per cent chance of rain in Hobart on Friday, if both the games get cancelled, they might face a first round exit. But their quality cannot be judged by it. For they are not the headmasters in the school of T20 cricket anymore. They are a new generation of students trying to build a reputation of their own among fellow learners.

Sri Lanka, Netherlands seal Super 12s berth

AGENCIES @ Geelong

MUHAMMAD Waseem came up with an all-round show as UAE scripted their first ever T20 World Cup win, defeating Namibia by seven runs in the concluding group A match here on Thursday. Courtesy UAE's win, the Netherlands qualified for the Super 12s from Group A, along with Sri Lanka, while Namibia, who were in the reckoning before the match, got also eliminated.

Chasing 149 for a win on a two-paced pitch, Namibia lost half their side inside 10 overs and it was then left to the seasoned David Wiese to steer their ship with 55 from 36 balls. But, the effort proved insufficient as Waseem (1/16 from two overs) came out on top with a perfect final over and dismissed Wiese to seal a memorable victory.

Earlier, Kusal Mendis stood tall with a gritty 79 as Sri Lanka bounced back from their early debacle to seal their Super 12 berth with a 16-run win over the Netherlands. They rode on the wicketkeeper-batter's 44-ball knock to post a stiff 162 for 6 after Dasun Shanaka opted to bat. In reply, the Dutch managed 146 for 9 as Wanindu Hasaranga and Maheesh Theekshana (2/32) stymied their chase with perfect death over execution.

Chennaiyin coach urges team to keep up intensity

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

WITH four points from two games, a confident looking Chennaiyin FC gear up for their second home game against FC Goa in the Indian Super League against FC Goa on Friday at the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium. CFC head coach Thomas Brdaric urged his players to take the field with the same intensity and energy as they played with in their first two games of the campaign.

After kick-starting their campaign in style with a win over ATK Mohun Bagan, a spirited Chennaiyin team made Bengaluru work hard in a drawn game on their return to the JN Stadium. "The result of the last match against Bengaluru could have been in all directions but we took a point. Having four points from two games is not bad. Pursuing our targets with this energy and intensity is what we want," said Brdaric, chief coach of CFC on Thursday. ''Yes, we are in the process of building a team. I have told players that it's a long road from the beginning till the end. We have to fulfill our strengths, abilities and the desire to learn from our experiences. We need to deny opponent spaces to score goals. They must be attentive. When the whistle starts, you have to give 100 per cent," added the German.

Vyshak shines as Karnataka continue dominance

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

KARNATAKA posted another resounding win over Services to stay atop Group C in the Syed Mushtaq Ali T20s on Thursday. Vijaykumar Vyshak was the star with the ball, taking three wickets for 24 runs. Karnataka and Haryana are tied on 20 points and their face-off on Saturday will see who makes the quarterfinals.

In the same group, Kerala also posted a comfortable 62-run win over Jammu and Kashmir, to keep their hopes alive. While the table-toppers from the five groups make the quarterfinals directly, the second-placed teams will be ranked 6-10 and will feature in the pre-quarterfinals. The 11th and last team would be the best (based on wins/NRR) from the remaining lot, which means even a team that finishes third in a group has a chance to make the pre-quarters.

In Group E, Tamil Nadu also kept their hopes of making to the pre-quarters alive with a 56-run victory over Chandigarh. After captain Baba Aparajith's 67 powered TN to 161/6 at Lucknow, the bowlers did the rest to restrict Chandigarh to 105. However, Chhattisgarh who are in third position with 14 points, have one more game in hand against Odisha and if they win that, they will overtake TN courtesy the head-to-head results. With 18 points, Bengal are already in quarterfinals. At Jaipur, Delhi defeated Goa by six wickets to remain second in Group B behind Punjab. Delhi are lined up to face Tripura in their last fixture.

Brief scores: Group B at Jaipur: Puducherry 86/9 in 20 ovs (Kaul 5/12) lost to Punjab 87/2 in 10 ovs; Goa 131/6 in 20 ovs (Gaonkar 40) lost to Delhi 133/4 in 17 ovs (Rana 49 n.o, Dhull 46); Hyderabad 132/9 (Tilak 48, Karan 3/19) lost to UP 133/3 in 19.1 ovs (Juyal 71 n.o). Group C at Mohali: Services 129/8 in 20 ovs (Pachhara 35, Vyshak 3/24) lost to Karnataka 130/2 in 18.1 ovs (Chethan 61 n.o); Kerala 184/4 in 20 ovs (Baby 62, Samson 61) bt J&K 122 in 19 ovs (Asif 3/15, Thampi 3/21). Group D at Indore: Andhra 129/9 in 20 ovs (Gaja 3/33) lost to Gujarat 132/5 in 18 ovs (Panchal 59). Group E at Lucknow: Tamil Nadu 161/6 in 20 ovs (Aparajith 67, Sandeep 3/14) bt Punjab 105 in 18.1 ovs (Varun 3/24); Jharkhand 188/5 (Ishan 102 n.o, Sa 3/24) bt Odisha 117 in 19.2 ovs (Mishra 54, Nadeem 3/21).

'Migrant workers abuse' in Qatar: Rights group points out the wrong

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

AMNESTY International's final pre-World Cup briefing makes for a grim reading as the rights group revealed when it comes migrant workers' conditions 'abuses remain rife across the country'.

The rights group, in a statement released on their website, said: "The Qatari authorities must re-commit to fully delivering on promised labour reforms now and beyond the World Cup, Amnesty International said today (Thursday). With just one month until kick-off, the human rights organisation again reiterated its call on FIFA and Qatar to establish a compensation fund for abused migrant workers.

"Qatar's overhaul of its labour system since 2017 has led to some noticeable improvements for the country's two million migrant workers – hundreds of thousands of whom have been engaged in projects essential to the World Cup. However, a lack of effective implementation and enforcement continues to undermine their impact on migrant workers. Thousands of workers across all projects are still facing issues such as delayed or unpaid wages, denial of rest days, unsafe working conditions, barriers to changing jobs, and limited access to justice, while the deaths of thousands of workers remain uninvestigated."

The body continued to express grave concerns about the plight of migrant workers 'on both World Cup and non-World Cup related projects'.

"Migrant workers on both World Cup and non-World Cup related projects continue to face abuses on a significant scale in Qatar. Many workers, particularly in the domestic and security sectors, continue to be subjected to conditions that amount to forced labour, with domestic workers still typically working between 14 and 18 hours a day without a weekly day off, isolated in private homes."

Even if Qatar officials and the world football governing body, FIFA, have refuted the number deaths arising from working on projects, Amnesty International maintained that a large number of deaths 'remain unexplained'. "The deaths of thousands of migrant workers over the past decade and beyond — on World Cup-related projects or otherwise — remain unexplained. At least hundreds of these fatalities were likely a consequence of working in the extreme heat. New heat legislation is an improvement but must be strengthened to bring it into line with international standards and adequately protect outdoor workers. Despite clear evidence that heat stress poses a huge risk to health, the Qatari authorities have done little to investigate, certify or remedy migrant workers' deaths, contrary to international best practice."

They also reported on the practice of paying 'extortionate recruitment fees' to secure jobs in Qatar. "The payment by prospective migrant workers of extortionate recruitment fees to secure jobs in Qatar remains rampant. Fees of between US$1,000 and US$3,000 leave many workers needing months or even years to repay the debt, trapping them in cycles of exploitation."

The report does say that Qatar has made some positive moves over labour rights but there's a lot yet to be done. "Although Qatar has made important strides on labour rights over the past five years, it's abundantly clear that there is a great distance still to go. Thousands of workers remain stuck in the familiar cycle of exploitation and abuse thanks to legal loopholes and inadequate enforcement," Steve Cockburn, Amnesty International's Head of Economic and Social Justice, was quoted as saying in the release.

"With the World Cup looming, the job of protecting migrant workers from exploitation is only half done, while that of compensating those who have suffered abuses has barely started. It's also imperative that Qatar commits to improving conditions in the long term. Progress must not grind to a halt once the World Cup roadshow leaves Doha."

DNA sheds light on family ties of our ancient cousins

Researchers used genetic sleuthing to offer a rare snapshot of Neanderthal family dynamics. They mapped out relationships between 13 different Neanderthals

HISTORY

NEW YORK: A new study suggests that Neanderthals formed small, tightknit communities where females may have traveled to move in with their mates.

The research used genetic sleuthing to offer a rare snapshot of Neanderthal family dynamics—including a father and his teenage daughter who lived together in Siberia more than 50,000 years ago.

Researchers were able to pull DNA out of tiny bone fragments found in two Russian caves. In their study, published Wednesday in the journal Nature, they used the genetic data to map out relationships between 13 different Neanderthals and get clues to how they lived. “When I work on a bone or two, it’s very easy to forget that these are actually people with their own lives and stories,” said study author Bence Viola, an anthropologist at the University of Toronto. “Figuring out how they’re related to each other really makes them much more human.”

Researchers excavate a cave in the mountains of Siberia, Russia | AFP

Our ancient cousins, the Neanderthals, lived across Europe and Asia for hundreds of thousands of years. They died out around 40,000 years ago, shortly after our species, the Homo sapiens, arrived in Europe from Africa. Scientists have only recently been able to dig around in these early humans’ DNA. New Nobel laureate Svante Paabo published the first draft of a Neanderthal genome a little over a decade ago. Since then, scientists have sequenced 18 Neanderthal genomes, said lead author Laurits Skov, a geneticist at the Max Planck Institute for Evolutionary Anthropology. But it’s rare to find bones from multiple Neanderthals from the same time and place, he said—which is why these cave discoveries were so special.

The caves, located in remote foothills above a river valley, have been a rich source of materials from stone tools to fossil fragments, Viola said.

Archaeologists have found remains from at least a dozen different Neanderthals, Viola said. These remains usually come in small bits and pieces—but they’re enough for scientists to extract valuable DNA details. The researchers were able to identify a couple of relatives among the group. Along with the father and daughter, there was a pair of other relatives—maybe a boy and his aunt, or a couple of cousins.

Deciphering genetics

The female side showed more genetic differences than the male side — which means females may have moved around more. It’s possible that when a female Neanderthal found a mate, she would leave home to live with his family.

Overall, the analysis found that everyone in the group had a lot of DNA in common. That suggests that at least in this area, Neanderthals lived in very small communities of 10 to 20 individuals, the authors concluded. But not everyone in these groups stayed put, according to the study. Researchers looked at other genetic clues from mitochondrial DNA, which is passed down on the mother’s side, and the Y chromosome, which is passed down on the father’s side.

RUSSIA TWISTS THE KNIFE, CALLS TRUSS A DISGRACE

Biden, Macron wish Britain a speedy return to political stability

LONDON

US President Joe Biden and French President Emmanuel Macron on Thursday wished Britain speedy return to stability so that London can focus on tackling global challenges.

"I thank Prime Minister Liz Truss for her partnership on a range of issues including holding Russia accountable for its war against Ukraine," Biden said in a statement.

"We will continue our close cooperation with the UK government as we work together to meet the global challenges our nations face."

Arriving at a European Union summit, Macron said he would not comment on British domestic politics but added: "It is important that Great Britain regains political stability very quickly, and that is all I wish."

Relations between Paris and London have often been sour as Britain negotiated its divorce from the European Union, and threatened to get worse as Truss courted the hardline pro-Brexit wing of her party.

During her campaign to be elected leader of the Conservative Party, and thus prime minister, Truss famously said that "the jury is out" on whether the French leader was a friend or foe of Britain.

But there were also signs of a potential rapprochement on strategic issues, with Truss agreeing to attend the first summit in Prague of the Macron-inspired European Political Community.

News of Truss's resignation broke as Macron was arriving at the EU summit in Brussels, and he was asked about it by reporters.

Macron said that he had had several telephone calls with Truss during her brief time in office and had been glad to see her in Prague.

Meanwhile, Russia on Thursday said Britain has "never known such a disgrace as prime minister" after Liz Truss resigned as UK leader just weeks into her time in office.

"The catastrophic ignorance and the queen's funeral immediately after her audience with Liz Truss will be remembered," foreign ministry spokeswoman Maria Zakharova said on Telegram.

The UK is one of Kyiv's staunchest supporters and Russia considers it as one of the most unfriendly Western countries.

Truss visited Russia as Foreign Secretary in February, just two weeks before President Vladimir Putin sent troops to Ukraine.

In a strained meeting with counterpart Sergei Lavrov, she confused two regions of Russia with regions of Ukraine. In Britain's Conservative stronghold town of Godalming Truss's resignation on Thursday was met with relief by voters.

"Terrific!" said travel agent Ken Cully, 62, on hearing the news. "She just made a mess of it, an absolute mess of it and didn't have the support of the rest of the party."

Cully said the chaos of the past few weeks had left him very concerned and he would have preferred to have seen former finance minister Rishi Sunak at the helm.

"I am worried like everyone else in the country. We're all struggling." Agencies

POUND BRIEFLY JUMPS 1% AGAINST DOLLAR

The London stock market and the pound bounced on Thursday after British Prime Minister Liz Truss announced her resignation following disastrous policies that rocked the markets for weeks. The pound briefly surged more than one per cent against the dollar to $1.1336 after Truss ended six tumultuous weeks in power — but analysts said gains were pared by the ongoing uncertainty. "Sterling and gilts rallied as the sorry reign of Liz Truss came to an end," said Markets.com analyst Neil Wilson. "After a flurry of activity we are seeing retracement of these initial moves as markets realise that there's still huge uncertainty about whether the Tory party can survive in power"

NO STRANGER TO U-TURNS

A LOOK AT SOME OF HER MOST SCREECHING U-TURNS

- Liz Truss began her political journey as the Liberal Democrat-supporting daughter of her progressive parents. By her own admission, her switch to the Conservatives shocked her parents, but she says her beliefs had evolved
- She had also opposed the monarchy. Her youthful calls to abolish the royal family ran headlong into her new role when Queen Elizabeth II died on September 8, only two days after appointing Truss. The new prime minister paid tribute to the late monarch, curtsied to King Charles III, and joined the queen's successor on a tour of his new British realms

Dozens of Tory MPs going against party line on fracking was last straw for Truss

LONDON

BRITISH Prime Minister Liz Truss' resignation follows chaotic scenes in UK parliament on Wednesday night as the opposition proposed a debate on her controversial decision to resume fracking — drilling onshore for gas.

Tory MPs rebelled against the government's demand that they drop the party's manifesto commitment to maintain a ban on fracking.

Opposition Labour MPs alleged that Conservative MPs were physically forced to vote against the proposals by the whips who enforce party discipline while dozens failed to vote along party lines.

Accusations swirled of heavy-handed efforts to whip MPs into line, some of whom later briefed the media that it was the nail in the coffin of the Truss premiership.

Soon after the late-night drama, UK Times reported that prime minister was "clinging to power", and cited a Truss supporter in her cabinet as saying: "It's terminal."

Soon after her resignation, Opposition leader Keir Starmer said, "the Conservative Party has shown it no longer has a mandate to govern," said Labour Party leader Keir Starmer. "We must have a chance at a fresh start. We need a general election – now."

"All the failures of the past 12 years have now come to the boil," he said. "This is not just a soap opera at the top of the Tory party," he said, warning of "huge damage" to the UK economy, although the pound surged against the dollar after dramatic announcement.

"The Tories cannot respond to their latest shambles by yet again simply clicking their fingers and shuffling the people at the top without the consent of the people". Agencies

Anger in China over 14-yr-old's quarantine centre death

BEIJING

THE death of a 14-year-old girl sent to a Covid-19 quarantine is the latest cause of public anger against Chinese President Xi Jinping, who is widely expected to get endorsed by the ongoing Congress of the ruling Communist Party for a record 3rd term

Guo JinJin developed a fever two days after being taken to a quarantine centre in Ruzhou in Henan province last week. Her condition rapidly deteriorated and she passed away on Monday night.

Her family alleged that workers at the centre failed to provide any treatment to JinJin as her condition worsened.

"Health workers at the centre took no care of her, no one even inquired," her father Guo Lele said.

Her death and the circumstances surrounding it have triggered an outpouring of public anger on social media.

"I'm so angry. Why didn't they just give her a pill?" one user wrote. "It's always like this. Nothing will ever change," wrote another.

Under Xi's strict zero-Covid policy, those testing positive for Covid-19, including children, are forcibly taken to obscure quarantine centres.

This has led to many children being separated from their parents.

The policy has fuelled anger against the government with protests held in recent weeks calling for an end to the hardline approach.

SL House holds debate on trimming prez powers

COLOMBO

THE much-anticipated parliamentary debate for the adoption of the 22nd Amendment to Sri Lanka's Constitution aimed at empowering Parliament over the executive president started on Thursday after two previous postponements due to strong opposition from the ruling SLPP party.

President Ranil Wickremesinghe had pledged constitutional reforms to appease the demand from the street protesters who ousted his predecessor Gotabaya Rajapaksa.

The 22A was to restore the powers of Parliament which were taken under the executive president by Rajapaksa through the 20th Amendment of 2020. Rajapaksa had reversed the 19A which had empowered parliament over presidency.

Justice Minister Wijeyadasa Rajapakshe told Parliament that the proposed amendment would transfer some presidential powers, including the appointment of officials, to a constitutional council comprising lawmakers and respected non-politicians. The council would recommend candidates for appointment to the president.

Rajapakshe said the proposal would help ensure the independence of the judiciary and public service.

Under the proposed amendment, presidents could only appoint senior judges, attorney generals, central bank governors, police, election commissioners, and bribery and corruption investigators on the recommendation of the council. The prime minister would recommend Cabinet appointments, and the president would not be allowed to hold any Cabinet positions except defense. Agencies

Contaminated medicines linked to death of 99 kids

Indonesia has found contaminated medicines that are suspected of being linked to the deaths of 99 children this year due to acute kidney injury, officials said on Thursday. Indonesia's Food and Drug Monitoring Agency said it was tracing 26 medicinal syrups used to treat fevers, coughs and colds, noting that testing showed five such medicines had ethylene glycol levels "that exceeded the safe threshold," it said in a statement. The Health Ministry, which banned all syrup medicines on Wednesday, is working with the food and drug agency to determine which other drugs to potentially withdraw as a preventive measure, Health Minister Budi Gunadi Sadikin said. There have been 206 cases of acute kidney injury in children reported from 20 provinces in Indonesia this year, and a death rate of 48%, the Health Ministry said

Moscow seeks to regain ground, Kyiv curbs electricity use

KYIV

RUSSIA'S troops fought on Thursday to regain lost ground in areas of Ukraine that Russia illegally annexed while it tried to pound the invaded country into submission with more missile and drone attacks on critical infrastructure.

Russian forces attacked Ukrainian positions near Bilohorivka, a village in the Luhansk region. In the neighbouring Donetsk region, fighting raged near the city of Bakhmut. Kremlin-backed separatists have controlled parts of both regions for 8.5 years.

The unsettled status of the illegally absorbed territory was especially visible in the Kherson region's capital, where military officials have replaced Kremlin-installed civilian leaders amid a mass evacuation and an ongoing Ukrainian counteroffensive.

President Volodymyr Zelenskyy's office said on Thursday that Ukrainian forces continued to engage the enemy, mounting 15 attacks on Russian military strongholds in the Kherson region.

Meanwhile, Russia continued its stepped-up attacks on Ukraine's energy infrastructure, dispatching drones and missiles to eight regions. At least three civilians died and 14 were wounded in overnight attacks across Ukraine, according to the Ukrainian president's office.

In Kryvyi Rih, Russian strikes damaged a power plant and another energy facility, cutting electricity to the central Ukraine city of about 600,000 residents.

Also, Ukraine began curbing electricity consumption on Thursday as it raced to repair infrastructure destroyed by Russian bombing as winter approaches.

Energy-saving measures were put in place aafter Russian missile and drone strikes destroyed at least 30% of the country's power stations in a week.

Following blackouts in parts of Kyiv overnight, the city's mayor Vitali Klitschko urged businesses to limit screens and signage lights "as much as possible". Agencies

Iran flexes military muscles amid unrest at home

DUBAI

AS protests rage at home, Iran's theocratic government is flexing its military muscle abroad: Tehran supplied its kamikaze drones to Russia that killed Ukrainian civilians, ran drills in a border region with Azerbaijan and bombed Kurdish positions in Iraq.

Those moves show Iran's leaders trying to rally hard-line support within the country as weekslong demonstrations continue over the death of Mahsa Amini.

Further raising the risk of destabilisation is Iran's nuclear programme. Tehran now has enough highly enriched uranium to build an atomic bomb if it chooses and continues to make more as negotiations over its tattered deal with world powers have collapsed.

There has also been military activity on Iran's northern border with Azerbaijan, where the Revolutionary Guard has run military drills over several days. Azerbaijan has been locked in cyclical fighting with Armenia, with the latest round killing 176 soldiers in September.

Then there's Russia's war on Ukraine. As Moscow chewed through its stockpile of precision-guided munitions in the months long war, it turned to Iran to supply it with low-cost 'suicide' drones.

In Kyiv, Iran's Shahed-136 drones— known for their distinctive triangle-shaped design—have blown up apartment buildings and other targets. Iran and Russia have denied Tehran has supplied the drones—but Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei in a speech telegraphed his approval of their deadly capabilities.

"A few years ago, when photographs of our advanced missile and drones were released, some said that they were Photoshopped," Ayatollah Ali Khamenei said.

Meanwhile, Iran's nuclear programme continues to accumulate more highly enriched uranium. Iran now enriches uranium up to 60% purity. Iranian officials evenly have openly discussed pursuing a bomb in recent months. Israel has warned it will never allow Iran to obtain a nuclear weapon—and the country has carried out airstrikes in the past to destroy atomic programs in Iraq and Syria. AP

DENIES PLAN TO SEND MISSILES TO RUSSIA

Tehran: Iran's top diplomat denied Thursday that Tehran planned to send missiles to Russia for use in the Ukraine war, an allegation made in several media reports. The denial comes as the Czech republic, which holds the EU's rotating presidency, announced that the bloc had agreed sanctions against three individuals and one entity alleged to have supplied Iranian attack drones to Russia for use against Ukrainian targets. "During a telephone conversation with (EU foreign policy chief) Josep Borrell, I told him that our politics... is that we are opposed to the war and its escalation in Ukraine," Iran's Foreign Minister Hossein Amir-Abdollahian said on Twitter on Thursday.
